Staunton Vindicator.

VOL. XVII. STAUNTON, VIRGINIA, FRIDAY, APRIL 19, 1861. NO. 16.

THE TRUE AND SCIENTIFIC

REFORM.

ADVICE FREE.

New York Benevolent Infirmary,

ESTABLISHED 1858.

A Institution for the Diseases of Medical Delicacy, for the Prevention and Cure of Diseases of the Reproductive Organs, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Diseases of the Skin, Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Diseases of the Bowels, Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Bladder, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Costiveness, Piles, Rheumatism, Gravel, Dropsy, Diseases of the Blood, Tetter, Ringworm, Scurvy, Scrofula, Mercurial Disease, Secondary Symptoms, Syphilis, and all Diseases resulting from the Indiscretions of Youth, Dissipation, Exposure, Sedentary Habits, Marriage, and Diseases of Females, Leucorrhœa, Irregularities, Prolapsus, Ulceration, Fluor Albus, Barrenness, Sterility, Pain in the Back, Nervous Irritability, Hysteria, Spinal Weakness, Mental Depression, Loss of Memory, Premature Decay, Consumption, Cancer, Tumors, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Fits, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Dizziness, Convulsions, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Mental Incapacity, Impotency, Premature Decay, Contagious Blood Diseases, Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Emissions, Spermatorrhœa, Impotency, Sexual Debility, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Gravel, Stone in the Bladder, Diseases of the Kidneys, Dropsy, Diabetes, Diseases of the Skin, Eruptions, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Ringworm, Scurvy, Scrofula, Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Deafness, Discharges, Inflammation, Impaired Vision, Cataract, Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Coughs, Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Piles, Diseases of the Bowels, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Joints, Diseases of the Limbs, Deformities, &c., should immediately consult the Proprietors, who are regular graduates of the New York University, and have had the largest experience of any Physicians in the United States.

Their remedies are prepared in our own Laboratory, under the care of able Chemists, and are the medicinal agents known to the profession, as the most rational discoveries.

In all startling cases, they publish a plain, truthful account of symptoms and appearance of disease, upon receipt of a letter describing symptoms, and enclosing a fee of $5, which is the lowest price at which the skill of such men can be secured, and which is so little as to be a mere nominal fee, when compared with the benefit to be derived from it, and the value of our works and judgment, which we place at the service of those who need our services.

Also published at the Infirmary, to all these subjects,

THE FAMILY PHYSICIAN,

Containing simple remedies easily obtained for the cure of the simpler ailments of our family, with full explanations of the causes, symptoms, diet, bathing, and exercise. Price 50 cents.

THE LADIES' MEDICAL FRIEND,

AND THE PHYSIOLOGY OF MARRIAGE.

A work on the causes, symptoms, and treatment of all complaints peculiar to the sex, on marriage, its duties, abortion, and its results, on Childbirth, their life, and its peculiarities and exemption, with Invaluable Instructions to them on subjects of a private nature. Price 25 cents.

THE GENTLEMEN'S MEDICAL

AND PRIVATE ADVISER,

A book for youth and young, embracing the Diseases of Youth, and Cure of all Diseases of Delicacy, Results of the Ages, &c. Does not allude to quackery, but is a valuable book, and should be read by all. Price 25 cents.

THE GUIDE AND GUARD.

FOR EVERYONE.

It expels all the Humbugs, and the various Knickknacks called the sick and well. It illustrates the place of the Quack Nostrums, and shows every Details of the Ages. It shows how all kinds of Fogs, Medicines, Liquors, and Bodies are adulterated; with the means of Detecting the Slander. Price 25 cents.

THE HOUSEHOLD AND FARM,

PLANTATION AND SHOP.

For every Family, having over 1000 Receipts in Cooking, Preserving, Dyeing, Cleaning, &c. How to Plant and what to the best to Raise. How to cure animals, advice to House Keepers, Farmers, and Mechanics, Receipts, Nostrums, &c. Price 25 cents. Worth its price 100.

THE CONSUMPTIVES BOOK.

Has valuable information for those with Consumption, or Lung Disease, a Description of all the Consumptive Remedies, and for it, with a careful statement of the results, and what remedies are most to be relied on.

The information in them is not to be found in any review published or obtainable from any medical source. These books are published in fine form, paper, and beautifully bound.

Any of the above works will be mailed free, on receipt of price, in stamps, or money, or the whole of the above, for $1 in stamps, or money, or any of the above, for $1 in stamps, or money, or any of the above, for $1 in stamps, or money, or any [illegible] Ferry with the terrible civil war that is now consuming the country, [illegible] ting to establish that it proves [illegible] ness of the policy of the Union [illegible] not fail to [illegible] he. At a time when the people should be warned to prepare to defend their hitherto hold from the aggressive plots of a people [illegible] ous [illegible] the dignity and sacredness of the occasion is insulted by covertly directing its efforts to the resurrection of its old party. The brief, yet significant allusion to "laxes" etc., shows that the wiry genius who wrote that remarkable letter on the subject of "taxes" during the Convention session, is still cherishing the hope of receiving aunsel from the consuming wrath of a deceased people and being restored to their forfeited confidence.

Indeed, throughout the columns of the last Spectator, there pervades a persistent purpose to give vitality to party irrespective of the momentous events that are stirring the hearts of the people. While the leaders and file of the Democracy are filling the cannon's mouth, or giving efficiency to the energies of the State in her grand and glorious efforts to defend her honor, it would seem that some of the Union men have no higher aim than to gravel in the trouble work of county politics. Instead of casting bullets for the defence of their firesides, they are more intensely engaged in ascertaining for whom the votes of the people may be cast. We will not give expression to our feelings at such conduct. We pray that the people will turn away from such considerations to the solemn and terrible thought that their homes may be invaded by a ruthless enemy, and to prepare for any emergency. Be true to myself, and then it will follow as the night the day, then cannot not be untrue to another.

AUGUSTA RIFLEMEN.

Capt. Asher W. Harman has now nearly equipped his fine company of Mounted Riflemen, numbering about 100 men. This will be one of the finest in the State, and if opportunity presents laurels will be won, for the dashing, intrepid, fearless character of the captain will always lead to where the conflict is fiercest.

Since the above was written, Capt. Harman's company has appeared in full dress parade, presenting an attractive and truly soldierly appearance. The soldiers themselves are not only Augusta men, but the cloth from which their uniforms were made was manufactured at the Woollen Factory of Messrs. Crawford & Co. at this place. The County Court made an appropriation of $5,000 to equip the company, but the actual cost will not amount to more than from $500 to $600. Such an example of economy is worthy of imitation. Augusta can well trust such with her credit and her honor.

HOME GUARD

We attended the drill of the Home Guard, Capt. W. P. Tate, on Tuesday night last, and were impressed with the character of the men of which it is composed. Numbering, as it does, the very elite of the essential manhood of the community, some of them the eldest, we could not but think that if such men were ready to shoulder the musket in the cause of the State, and as a people, were truly invincible. Could Old Abe, in his mental eye, have taken a glance into Armory Hall last Tuesday night, he might have learned a lesson, and that if somebody was not yet hurt, somebody might be in a very short time.

The officers of the Guard are

Wm. P. Tate, Captain,
John N. Hendren, 1st Lt.
Robt. E. Young, 2d.
Jacob. K. Trout, 3d.
Saml. E. Poston, 4th.
E. M. Cushing, Orderly Sergeant.

Prediction Verified.

Jefferson Davis, immediately after his election to the Presidency of the Confederate States, and when en route for Montgomery, made a speech at Jackson, Miss., in which he said he desired peace, but if there came, it must be waged upon Northern soil. How remarkably is that prediction being verified? We will have Washington in less than a fortnight, and drive Lincoln and Scott to New-York, and then we will carry the war into Africa as sure as the sun shines.

Inspector General.

Col. John B. Baldwin of this place, has been appointed by the Governor, Inspector General of the Military of the State. While Col. B. may not be possessed of the scientific acquirements of some, we think it an admirable appointment. His fine practical sense, cool deliberate judgment, and great foresight, with some military experience, combine to make him an efficient officer.

On Sunday morning last Jacob Points, second son of our esteemed fellow citizen, R. F. Points, Esq., arrived here as special messenger from Harper's Ferry, and returned the same evening. On Tuesday night last Jos. F. Tannehill, John Beck and Mr. Steers also came up in a similar capacity, and will leave this evening. They bring cheering reports as to the condition and spirits of all the companies.

Prominent among those who have manifested their liberality and sympathy with the cause of Virginia and the South, is the firm of [illegible] Tinsmith. By furnishing a company here, [illegible] the soldiers [illegible] starved three or four hundred, [illegible] here. Such is the sentiment [illegible] the country.

[illegible]

[illegible] Harper's Ferry.

Winchester, Va., 20th, 1861.

Mr. Editor:—The "Augusta Rifles" marched for Harper's Ferry at 6 o'clock, A. M., on the 19th instant, under my command, arrived in Winchester at 5 o'clock, A. M., this morning in safety, but very much wearied, and are quartered for the present at the Taylor Hotel. We have been very hospitably received and entertained. I have never seen such an outpouring of popular feeling in behalf of the South. The ladies every where appear as enthusiastic as the men. I heard one encouraging the men to "stand up for our rights! If she (!) were a man, she (!) would go too!"

At this writing I do not know whether I will go to Harpers-Ferry or not, or stay here for further orders. I have telegraphed to Harpers-Ferry, and will hear soon. Our men are in fine spirits, and are very much complimented as fine looking men. It is hard to tell where we will move next. We are in the midst of a great revolution; our people are united as one man, and are determined to maintain their rights at every sacrifice. "United we stand." The Virginia spirit is as high, as gallant, and as patriotic as at any former period.

Tell our militia to be prepared for anything, and take a high and manly position, with a determination to maintain it. We received several recruits on the way hither, who could not wait for an order of the corps to which they belong. A young lawyer of Alexandria, Mr. MONTANO, is one of the number. He has made several flaming speeches in behalf of our rights, on the way hither, and here, which were received with much enthusiasm.

You shall hear from me occasionally, as I may have opportunity to write. We have now, after much anxiety and labor, got our company so organized as to be able to live at least. In great haste,

Yours, A. KOINER.

S. M. Yost, Esq.

For the Vindicator.

HEAD QUARTERS 5th Reg't Va. Vol's.,
Camp-Hill, Harper's Ferry,
April 20th 1861.

Mr. Editor:—My duty to the relatives of the men composing my command makes me impress upon your columns a few lines. I am glad to say that all of my men, with but one or two exceptions, are and have been well, and in the finest spirits. A portion of my regiment, the "Nor' Augusta Guard" and a battery of two pieces of the Staunton Artillery is now encamped on the Maryland side and commanding a pass above Harper's Ferry. It is the most important post here, and I have been assigned the command, with old Augusta boys, to hold it against any foe. It is the post of danger, and therefore the post of honour, and we will maintain it against every enemy. Yes and your soldiers must pardon a vain vanity, Mr. Editor, for the pride which I have for the gallant fellows under me, may make me exceed propriety. Their conduct reminds me of the glorious deeds of our forefathers, and their name and memory shall never be disgraced by their sons. All of my men are contented, and have adapted themselves to the strict rule of military life, and the arduous duties of the camp. Thanks to the ladies, and our liberal citizens, we are the best equipped command, and if they could only see us on duty, I know they would be satisfied that their generous liberality was not improperly bestowed.

We have all been working hard, and Gen. Harman's command has been by far the most active here, and I would not believe that any one could do the work and lose the rest that all of us have done. I have not had off my clothes since I left Staunton; I am sure I have not slept less hours all put together. The men work willingly, are hearty, and sleep as soundly on the ground, as a prince in a palace.—They are ready for a fight, and I believe are eager to show their courage in driving back any invading foe. Great enthusiasm animates all, and should the vicegerent of the arch-fiend dare send his minions to Old Virginia, we will repel them, or leave the memory of brave men for our friends to revere.

I wish Mr. Editor, you would draw a comparison between the soldiers here. I am sure old Augusta would not shrink in it, The Staunton companies exceed any here in number by at least twenty, whilst the county companies (Captain Kolner's and Captain Crawford's,) are larger than the majority of others here. The 5th Regiment will be the flower.

I promised the friends of my soldiers that I would be a brother to them. I intend to redeem the promise. I will spare no pains to make them comfortable. None of them shall suffer. I trust their friends will give themselves no trouble or concern about them. God is on our side. He will defend the right.

[illegible] our success. We will do our duties as faithfully as we know how, and if we fall we will leave with a thousand things pleading upon our behalf. When more letters come, I will write more fully to you.

Yours, W. H. H. BAYLOR.

P. S.—If a fight occurs, we will be the first in it, and the last out of it. We have Minnie bullets, which by our sightings are surpassed, as we will be paid the very trouble, soon if we don't have a fight.

[illegible] Bridge Railroad, with all the preparations for a siege or a pitched battle of the most [illegible] in Alexandria.

We have received from Gen. Beauregard, the following interesting letter, dated at Winchester and addressed to Harper's Ferry. From both it will be [illegible] [illegible] plank was laid down and secured, that when the time of war came, the enemies of our whole country will find the Shenandoah Gorge very hot, you have the sympathies, prayers and confidence of those you left behind.

Winchester, Va., 20th, 1861.

Mr. Editor:—The "Augusta Rifles" marched for Harpers Ferry at 6 o'clock, A. M., on the 19th instant, under my command, arrived in Winchester at 5 o'clock, A. M., this morning in safety, but very much wearied, and are quartered for the present at the Taylor Hotel. We have been very hospitably received and entertained. I have never seen such an outpouring of popular feeling in behalf of the South. The ladies every where appear as enthusiastic as the men. I heard one encouraging the men to "stand up for our rights! If she (!) were a man, she (!) would go too!"

At this writing I do not know whether I will go to Harpers-Ferry or not, or stay here for further orders. I have telegraphed to Harpers-Ferry, and will hear soon. Our men are in fine spirits, and are very much complimented as fine looking men. It is hard to tell where we will move next. We are in the midst of a great revolution; our people are united as one man, and are determined to maintain their rights at every sacrifice. "United we stand." The Virginia spirit is as high, as gallant, and as patriotic as at any former period.

Tell our militia to be prepared for anything, and take a high and manly position, with a determination to maintain it. We received several recruits on the way hither, who could not wait for an order of the corps to which they belong. A young lawyer of Alexandria, Mr. MONTANO, is one of the number. He has made several flaming speeches in behalf of our rights, on the way hither, and here, which were received with much enthusiasm.

You shall hear from me occasionally, as I may have opportunity to write. We have now, after much anxiety and labor, got our company so organized as to be able to live at least. In great haste,

Yours, A. KOINER.

S. M. Yost, Esq.

For the Vindicator.

HEAD QUARTERS 5th Reg't Va. Vol's.,
Camp-Hill, Harper's Ferry,
April 20th 1861.

Mr. Editor:—My duty to the relatives of the men composing my command makes me impress upon your columns a few lines. I am glad to say that all of my men, with but one or two exceptions, are and have been well, and in the finest spirits. A portion of my regiment, the "Nor' Augusta Guard" and a battery of two pieces of the Staunton Artillery is now encamped on the Maryland side and commanding a pass above Harper's Ferry. It is the most important post here, and I have been assigned the command, with old Augusta boys, to hold it against any foe. It is the post of danger, and therefore the post of honour, and we will maintain it against every enemy. Yes and your soldiers must pardon a vain vanity, Mr. Editor, for the pride which I have for the gallant fellows under me, may make me exceed propriety. Their conduct reminds me of the glorious deeds of our forefathers, and their name and memory shall never be disgraced by their sons. All of my men are contented, and have adapted themselves to the strict rule of military life, and the arduous duties of the camp. Thanks to the ladies, and our liberal citizens, we are the best equipped command, and if they could only see us on duty, I know they would be satisfied that their generous liberality was not improperly bestowed.

We have all been working hard, and Gen. Harman's command has been by far the most active here, and I would not believe that any one could do the work and lose the rest that all of us have done. I have not had off my clothes since I left Staunton; I am sure I have not slept less hours all put together. The men work willingly, are hearty, and sleep as soundly on the ground, as a prince in a palace.—They are ready for a fight, and I believe are eager to show their courage in driving back any invading foe. Great enthusiasm animates all, and should the vicegerent of the arch-fiend dare send his minions to Old Virginia, we will repel them, or leave the memory of brave men for our friends to revere.

I wish Mr. Editor, you would draw a comparison between the soldiers here. I am sure old Augusta would not shrink in it, The Staunton companies exceed any here in number by at least twenty, whilst the county companies (Captain Kolner's and Captain Crawford's,) are larger than the majority of others here. The 5th Regiment will be the flower.

I promised the friends of my soldiers that I would be a brother to them. I intend to redeem the promise. I will spare no pains to make them comfortable. None of them shall suffer. I trust their friends will give themselves no trouble or concern about them. God is on our side. He will defend the right.

[illegible] our success. We will do our duties as faithfully as we know how, and if we fall we will leave with a thousand things pleading upon our behalf. When more letters come, I will write more fully to you.

Yours, W. H. H. BAYLOR.

P. S.—If a fight occurs, we will be the first in it, and the last out of it. We have Minnie bullets, which by our sightings are surpassed, as we will be paid the very trouble, soon if we don't have a fight.

[illegible] Bridge Railroad, with all the preparations for a siege or a pitched battle of the most [illegible] in Alexandria.

[illegible] Ferry, Va., April 22, 1861.

[illegible] of Mr. Mofflett [illegible] Lexington, [illegible] Mr. Mofflett for the [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] of Dr. Mofflett for the [illegible] [illegible] aspire. Although [illegible] [illegible] political associations of the [illegible] [illegible] and a familiarity with correct [illegible] as historical questions affecting the interests of government, which would [illegible] to elect him.

The political views of Dr. Mofflett are indicated in his announcement, we believe, a reflex of the will of a most sympathetic people of this Congressional District. He may seem themselves that he chooses to announce himself a candidate for the "Montgomery Congress." To our mind it is not. On the contrary, it exhibits a degree of foresight that admirably harmonizes with the progression in the release of government that is destined to distinguish the Southern Confederacy. We think it shows in the unity of the Virginia Convention from a reason to adopt and submit for the ratification of the people on the 4th Thursday in May next, the Constitution of the Confederate States. That it will do so, we can scarcely entertain a doubt. Having separated ourselves forever from the vulgar power which control the North, it is but natural that we link our fortunes with those whose sympathies, interests, instincts and institutions harmonize with our own. One in feeling and in sentiment, we should be united upon a fraternal and congenial basis, which we find in the Constitution of the Confederate States, to the end that our destiny may be the same.

Hence, it is, we do not think Dr. Mofflett has proposed any monstrous idea, but only given the evidence that he possesses the faculty of penetration, and the boldness to proclaim his convictions.

We say this much, not designed as a compliment to Dr. Mofflett's claims for the position to which he aspires, but a presentation of our views on the ideas embraced in the terms of his announcement.

The conflict that is now rocking to its fall the most powerful government on earth, must eventuate in the separation of the one section from the other and the establishment of two distinct nationalities. When that glad period shall arrive it will be the womb of time. From present indications grim visaged war is not likely to smooth his wrinkled front for months. It may be thought that the secret revolve of an outraged people may inspire a consciousness of guilt in those who would oppress them, and slay their wicked and diabolical crusade. The significant lessons impressed by the few contests which have taken place, ought to teach the Goths and Vandals of the North that a free, intelligent and brave people, fighting for their rights, their homes and their firesides, can never be conquered. With no other impulse to govern them—no other aim to guide them than appealing to their consciences and their God, they will stand as a wall of fire to those who would dare to pollute the sacred precincts of their heritage. We fear not the result, for—

Thence it is that we look to the quarrel just,
And be not naked though lock'd up in steel,
Whose conscience with injustice is corrupted.

The ladies of Staunton, and especially the pupils of the different Female Institutes here, have entwined their brows with glory-wreaths of evergreen, which beautifully reflect the fresh and buoyant courage of their hearts. For days they have been busily engaged in making the uniforms of the new volunteer companies, scarcely permitting twenty-four hours to pass after the order had been placed in their hands, ere the full outfit, in any instance, was presented to the young soldier. What a touching evidence of the affection of these fair daughters of Virginia and the South for the sunny clime of their nativity. The sweet-hearts companions her lover, and with a smile and a tear bids him go and dare and do, and then return for his reward in the gift of the hand that fashioned the badge of his calling. God bless the sweet girls, and God speed and protect the brave boys.

To give an illustration of the spirit that animates our people, since the order for Lexington arms was received, Thos. Shumate, Esq., a gentleman at least 70 years of age, has been in his saddle one-third of two-days, and the other parts of the time, actively engaged on foot on business in that connection. Also his son, W. J. Shumate, Esq., has left every other business to attend to the indirect calls of the State.

Jacob Baylor, Esq., a gentleman at least 60, has slept neither night or day, but has been riding the county over in behalf of his country.

These instances we mention because they come into our mind just now, but there are hundreds of others who like our young friend Arch. Curtains, would exclaim my kingdom for a sleep! Think you such people can be conquered?

We understand that the Convention has vested all the militia officers from Generals down to Captains. While this act demonstrates some most excellent efforts, we think its general design may be admirable. It enables the State, at this time when ability and science are in demand, to rid herself of a very large number of worthless officers. The Commissions issued to the officers of the Militia Generals and Colonels will be reappointed.

It is notorious that the infamous Kansas cutthroat and robber, Jim Lane, is daily arriving in the seat of the Federal Capital a company of military robbers.—The Capital is fortified, and is bound to be the theatre of all action.

Such has occurred in Lynchburg, Va., and some [illegible] of Harper's Ferry, Va., [illegible] Dr. Gov. [illegible] [illegible] of our Army, was resigned. He [illegible] explained the reasons at the time of his resignation. On the [illegible] [illegible] (Ga.) Avenger [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Resolved, That the President of the United States be requested to transmit the public statutes of the United States, which have been published since the publication of the last edition of the laws of the United States, to the Governor of each State, for the use of the Legislature of each State.

Resolved, That the Clerk of the House of Representatives be requested to present the statutes of the United States, which have been published since the publication of the last edition of the laws of the United States, to the Governor of each State, for the use of the Legislature of each State.

Resolved, That the President of the United States be requested to transmit the public

"Up the Cross of the South which shall ever be
Its light in its triumphant glory again.
Thy peaceful and blessed was America's soil,
Till betrayed by the guile of the Puritan demon,
Which bathe under virtue and springs from its
To fasten its fangs in the life blood of freedom.
Thou boldly appeal to each heart that can feel,
Ask them the last place South Heart's heal.
Ask the Cross of the South shall in vain
To light us to Freedom and Glory again.
"To the emblem of peace, 'tis the day-star of hope,
'Tis the sacred Lodestar that guided the Roman,
From the phoenix of the Gulf to the Delaware's
"Tis the trust of the free and the terror of tyrannies.
Thus be hope in the air, while we boldly declare
The rights we demand, or we nobly dare we dare,
Without surrender we trust shall in triumph re-
To light us to Freedom and Glory again.
Hold to fully accomplish to attend to all the various duties which the times shall, he may be called upon to perform. Dr. Arthur will visit Stauton-ton once a month, (Court week.)

SPRING and SUMMER CLOTHING.

JUST received, one of the neatest and most fashionable stocks of
READY-MADE CLOTHING, FUR-NISHING GOODS, HATS AND CAPS,
ever before offered in Staunton, next door to Adams' Express Office, Staunton.
JAMES A. ARMENTROUT.
Staunton, March 22, 1841.

Soap and Candle FACTORY.

THE subscriber has commenced the manufacture of SOAP AND CANDLES at his house, on Beverly street, opposite the Farmers-Warehouse of A. D. Chandler. He will keep constantly on hand a superior article of Tallow Candles and the best quality of Soap, which will be sold on the most accommodating terms.
THOMAS WHOLEY.
Staunton, Dec. 27, 1860.—tf.

CITY HOTEL,
Corner Royal and Common Streets,
ALEXANDRIA, VA.
SMAUEL HEFLEBOWER, Proprietor
Rosnan, Sept. 1 A. W. Dunt, Clerk.
THE above well known Establishment has been ediling to and from the Springs will find it a pleasant place to stop. Omnibuses always in readiness at the Depot.
Alexandria, April 26, 1859.—tf

FAMILY CARRIAGE FOR SALE.

FOR SALE, a first rate TWO-HORSE CAR-RIAGE, which will seat six persons. It can be made close or open to suit the season. It was built by Rodgers, the best builder in the United States, and is nearly new, and in good condition now. It will be sold now for $350 on a credit of six or twelve months, bearing interest. Good and good security will be required. Inquire at this Office.
Feb. 25, 1861.—tf.

ST. CHARLES HOTEL,
CORNER OF MAIN AND WALL STREETS
RICHMOND, VA.
SAUNDERS & MADDUX, Proprietors,
JAMES MASSENBURG, JR.
(FORMERLY CLERK OF THE ST. CHARLES.)
W. D. [illegible]
Richmond, Jan. 1, 1861.

Wanted, 30 Good Boys to Work at Shoe Business, for which we will PAY THE HIGHEST CASH PRICES. Address him at Staunton or Middle-Stock. JAS. S. CARSON.
Marion, Feb. 1, 1861.—tf.
Please insert in the Staunton Gaz. and Star, and Rockingham Register copy.

PICTURES!
A. E. HOFFMAN,
ARTIST AND PHOTOGRAPHER,
BURDETT'S OLD GALLERY,
OPPOSITE THE VINDICATOR OFFICE,
BEVERLY ST., STAUNTON, VA.
Instructions given in the Art.
March 28, 1861.—tf

CATTLE SCALES.—I have made such arrangements with the Manufacturers, as to enable me to offer Fairbanks' Cattle and TED PLATFORM SCALES at the lowest factory price. I will give the Office of Hog Scales exclusively to Staunton and vicinity. Scales boxed and packed for transportation. These Scales are too well known to need commendation. I will only say that I will be prepared to wait on purchasers. Those want are requested to call for further information
GEO. E. PRICE.
Staunton, April 4, 1861.

NEW GOODS AT
DAVIS A. KAYSER'S,
CALL AND SEE THEM.
Staunton, March 8, 1861.

A. D. CHANDLER,
UNDERTAKER,
KEEPS CONSTANTLY CASKETS of all sizes, at Staunton and Chandler's Depot, at City, Price.
Staunton, Jan. 1, 1861.

Wanted,
1000 CORDS OF WOOD, delivered at the Distillery near Staunton, for which we will pay the highest cash price, on delivery. For Specimen apply at Staunton Distillery.
AMBEL, HARMAN & CO.
Dec. 7, 1860.—tf.

something Nice.

JUST received and for sale—in beautiful little boxes of 50 each, very supply of the celebrated Mexican Cigars, also a fine lot of Cigars, and Good Smoking Tobacco, in lots of 10 to 100 lbs.
Staunton, Feb. 4, 1861. R. H. LEAKY.
For C. T. Cochran.

DR. THOMAS A. BERKELEY
HAS removed his office to the corner of Mark and Beverly Streets, opposite the Old N-tional Hotel.
Staunton, April 19, 1860.—tf

Candles! Candles!!

THE undersigned will be able to supply family or superior tallow Candles, which he will dispose at 12½ cents per pound by the box for cash.
T. L. HARMAN.
March 18, 1861.

HORSE SHOES.—50 Kegs Horse Shoes just received and for sale. GEO. E. PRICE.
Staunton, March 18, 1861.

SPAULDING'S CEPHALIC PILLS—for the cure of Headache, at F. H. TROUT'S.
Staunton, Feb. 4, 1861. Drug Store

FLOWER SEEDS, of every kind, for sale by J. H. COUPER & CO. Drug Store.
Staunton, March 1, 1861.

WHITE LEAD, Zinc White, Oil, Varnish, Brushes, Glass, Putty, &c., for sale by
F. H. TROUT.
Staunton, March 1, 1861.

GRIND STONES.—Grind Stones and Hangings just received by WOODS & GILKESON.
Staunton, Jan. 18, 1861.

WOODEN WARE.—A good assortment just received by WOODS & GILKESON.
Staunton, Jan. 18, 1861.

VINEGAR.—Cider Vinegar, for sale by
F. H. TROUT.
Staunton, Nov. 22, 1860.

GERMAN MATCHES.—A lot of the Celebrated German Matches, for sale by
F. H. TROUT.
Staunton, March 1, 1861.

EVERY FAMILY
MAGNETIC SIPHO, FOR THE PREVENTION OF THE DISEASE OF
[illegible]
[illegible]
Phillips Brass, with screws and screw
Hartford Brass, Vinegar, Liquor
Tin, Copper, Iron, Lead, Glass
Water, Porcelain, Stone and Earthen Tubes, Pipes, Steel, Gilding Wire
Gilt Wire, Tinsel, and all complete of all Sheet Copper, Tinned Copper
The machine is in the form of a Syringe, but ment, is perfectly safe, it will not allow fake it if it comes, and can be used by a child.
It acts magnetically and chemically, removing the poisonous matter in the system. It is pleasant to use, imparts strength and life to the body, said-ves the nervous system, and refreshes to the mind, and gives a tone and elasticity to all who use it.
Ladies and Gentlemen, who from delicate health or circumstances do not permit an increase of family, to regulate or limit their offspring, but desire to have a healthy offspring, will would do well to procure the Magnetic Siphon.
N. B. Pamphlets, Physicians, Parents, and confidential information, for the Married, and those contemplating Marriage, also, full directions for its use.
VALL NOT TO ANCHOR OFF.
Single cases, in a paper sealed, $1. Each was is warranted. They are carefully packed, and forwarded to all parts of the country. Address,
JOSEPH F. TANNEHILL, (BOX B.) Stamford, New York.
Feb. 1, 1861.—1y.

GROCERIES,
BOOTS, SHOES &c.,
CHEAP FOR CASH.

Of Trade for Country Produce,

HAVING removed from the Corner of Beverly and Wall Streets, to Wright Row, I prepared to sell goods VERY LOW for the ready Country Produce, viz:
25 bags best Rio Coffee, at 15½ cts. by the bag
10 bags Java Coffee, at 18 cts by the bag;
10 bags Ceylon Coffee, at 14½ cts. by the bag; 10 bbls N. O. Sugar (dark drip) at 8½ cts by the bag;
50 bbls "Good" Stamp Soft Leather at 25c per lb;
10 bbls new crop N. O. Molasses, as extra article;
20 bbls Sugar Syrup;
Kegs Nails, very low;
Lard and Tallow, Tallow candles, Hickory at 6½ cents; Crushed Loaf Sugar 12½ cts; Good N. O. Sugar at 9 cts; Extra Gunpowder and imperial 50 lbs kegs at 6½ cts; Nutmegs, Spices $2.50 per pair; Fine Chewing $2.50 per pair; Immortelle Chewing and Fine Cut $2.50 per pound; Oxford Ties Shoes $1.75; Congress Gaiters at $2.50 per pair; also Youth's and Boys' Boots and Shoes, cheap for cash, together with a general assortment of other goods too numerous to mention, at very low rates in exchange for produce.
JOHN P. HULST, Brandenburg's Old Stand, Opposite the
Feb. 1, 1861.—tf. Virginia Hotel, Staunton.

STEAM ENGINES,
Circular Saw-Mills, &c., &c.
J. G. SPRINKLE,
Harrisonburg, Va.,
RESPECTFULLY informs the citizens of the Valley and of Virginia generally, that he is now prepared to manufacture STEAM ENGINES, CIRCULAR SAW MILLS, and every other description of work pertaining to Steam Engines and Machinery. The Engine shown in the cut is a model by himself and Bashford of our town, and was put up and in operation in Dayton.
There are some four Engines of this patent now in operation in Rockingham, two of which drive the machinery of Harrison and Sawyer's factory employed in a tan-yard, and the other driving the Grove Factory, in Harrisonburg. I refer to the gentlemen who own these Engines, for evidence of the superiority of my Engine over any other now in use. It is simple in its construction, easy of operation, and requires less fuel than any other engine of equal power. Its durability is equal to any other other engine of equal power made anywhere.
One of the Engines in use in Rockingham occupies the same space and is operated by one-fourth the Northern and Eastern Engines of similar patent. The construction of my Engine having now been fully tested, I confidently solicit the attention of all who may require power of this character to the invention.
For Particulars attention paid to the Sizing or Work, generally. Repairing
[illegible]
Staunton, Feb. 1, 1861.

Good Counsel Is Above all Price.

SUCH was the counsel Franklin gave whenbe said:
"Take care of the pence, the pounds will take care of themselves."
"Beware of the little expenses, for a small hole will sink a great ship."
"Industry pays debts, while idleness produces them."
"Be careful of what you buy, and provide things to come."
"Do timely wise, rather than wise in time—and that you may do so, call at the Cheap Cash Store of GABRIEL HIRSH.
N. B.—That HANDSOME MAN is still engaged in repairing Watches and Jewelry, at the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms.
Staunton, Nov. 22, 1860.

NEW CONCERN.
The copper & Sheet Iron Manufactory
THE undersigned would respectfully inform the citizens of Staunton and surrounding country, that they have taken the Shop on Main street, formerly occupied by Messrs. Kyle & Bro., where they are prepared to do all work in their factory, viz: Stills of all sizes, Tin and Copper Pipes, Copper and IRON WORK, from a Door Plate to a Steam Boiler.
They are also prepared for putting on Roofing and spouting on so follows as can be done in this section of country.
Having a desire to live and let live, they ask a share of public patronage.
JOHN C. GROVE & BRO.
Staunton, Feb. 22, 1861.—3m

FOR RENT.—The large and commodious Store Room now occupied by D. H. Goldenberg, also three rooms in the second story of the same building. The situation for business is one of the best in the place, being only one door above the Post Office, and two doors below the Central Bank of Va. Possession given 1st April.
TAYLOR & BOOS.
Feb. 8, 1861.

FINE CUT CHEWING TOBACCO.—
Cut Chewing Tobacco, including Gordon & Bros
Plantation, Anderson & Co's Amelia, Anderson & Co's Gaines, the best of which is the best article of the kind in the country.
R. J. GLENDY,
per C. T. COCHRAN.
Staunton, Oct. 3, 1860.

FRENCH CLOTHS & CASSIMERES.—
I have now a fine stock of French Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings and Tailors Trimmings.
Henry Bank, Esq., has just returned from a trip to the Northern City, and takes a room next door, on the best of which is the best article of the kind in the country.
DAVID A. KAYSER.
Staunton, Feb. 8, 1861.

Office and Residence
VIRGINIA HOTEL,
STAUNTON, VA.
JOEL BITTINGER
HAVING located in Staunton is prepared to do all kinds of Cabinet Ware, Tables, Fine and Common Furniture, Chairs, &c.
Staunton, Feb. 15, 1861.

OLD DOMINION
QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.
Twenty Thousand Patients Cured
[illegible]
Staunton, Feb. 14, 1861.

$60,000 A
WHEELER & WILSON'S
SEWING MACHINES
HAVE been offered in the Spring of 1861 Two, for cheaper the number that have been sold of other kinds, and show their superiority by the Machines in the market. Since these Machines have been known many other kinds have ceased to be sold, and other or some substitute for them, but the century or sewing a Machine, without the use of Wilson's patents, which the Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing Company have secured to themselves, and which are manufactured by no other manufacturers are selling them, has (and so long as the patents are good continue to) produced the latter to settle of Machine that is generally sold with the stamping of the Wheeler & Wilson Company.
"It is without a rival. No other Machine exceeds it in its adaptation to all the purposes of domestic sewing. It is the most quiet of any one, and in point of beauty and durability of work no machine stands ahead of it. Wherever it has been in use it has received the highest encomiums from its owners, and it may safely be attributed to considerable pains and postage in answering letters which frequently come to the Company inquiring the price of it."
Agents throughout the country, for sale.
Price $60.
Full instructions in their use.
Also—
Get's Patent Sitting Machine
For Skirts, Sleeves, Drawers, and all kind of Fancy Hosiery. Makes a 5,000 Stitches per minute.
Price $20.
H. M. STODDARD,
Agent for Staunton.
E. H. CRAIGE, Agent.
No. 297 Main st., Richmond Va.
May 4, 1860.—tf.

RICHARDSON'S
Irish Linens,
Damasks, Diapers, &c.
CURTAINS, or RICHARDSON'S Linen Damasks and those celebrated Diaper Linen Damasks and Diapers, Linen Sheetings, Linen Table Cloths and with the full name of the firm,
J. & J. RICHARDSON, SON, & DOWDEN, as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the article.
This caution is rendered especially necessary as large quantities of inferior and defective linens are prepared, with the same and spelled with the name of RICHARDSON, the intended sale on the American continent, and the manufacturers of the genuine Goods, will interpolly abandon a business so profitable, if the purchasers can be imposed on with blocks of a spurious article.
J. BULLOCK & J. B. LOCKE,
Agents, 51 Leonard St. New York.
Sept. 28, 1860.—1y—w's and

DAVIS A. KAYSER (just receiving an important addition to his stock of Staple Dry Goods, including in part 10-4 Pillow and bleached Sheeting;
Best Brown and Bleached Cotton Flannel;
Black silk and Satin Vestings;
Black Cashmeres;
Black Silk Warp Merrill Jeans;
Tycoons, and other Fancy Jeans;
Linen Cambrics, Linen Lawns;
Tycoons