The Vote of the State.

We have received official returns from all the counties except Pocahontas, which we have learned from other sources, and the vote officially heard from is as follows:

For Secession,	125,950
For Union,	20,373
Majority,	105,577

In 62 counties, not official, the reported vote is as follows:

For Secession,	2,923
For Union,	11,761
For Secession,	8,827

The official majority is 105 577; the majority, according to the unofficial vote, is 98,750. Both statements embrace the fraudulent and fictitious votes said to have been cast in the North-west. In some of these counties more votes are reported than there were polls, and of course the excess is due to fraud or Yankee votes.

This is the largest popular vote ever cast in the State for any proposition. When the Federal Constitution was adopted, it was done in Convention, and by a small majority of 10. It never was mentioned by a vote of the people, and the impression at the time was that a majority of them were opposed to it.

This vote discloses the connexion of Virginia with the Federal agent, and resents the freedom, sovereignty, and independence of the Commonwealth. Never again, with our consent, shall that sovereignty be placed in doubt or question. To secure its positivity of such a result, the provisional arrangement with the Confederate States, before being made final, should be subjected to the most searching examinations. That compact should be so clear and unequivocal, that its terms should not be susceptible of two interpretations, and such and all the parties to it should perfectly understand their rights and duties under it.

Election for Members of Congress, President and Vice President.

We have had occasion recently to look to the law passed at the extra session of Congress for the election of members of Congress and President and Vice President.—We find the act providing for the permanent organization of the government requires that all those States in which no provision has been made for the election members of Congress under the new Constitution, an election shall be held on the first Wednesday in November next, at which time the election of electors for President and Vice President shall also be held. The electors are required to meet in their respective States on the first Wednesday in December thereafter, and proceed to cast their votes for President and Vice President.

The messages who may be elected, and the Senators to be chosen by the States, shall assemble in the seat of Government of the Confederate States on the 18th day of February, 1862, and proceed respectively to the election of Speaker of the House and President of the Senate. On the 19th day of February the President of the Senate shall open the votes, and if no choice then be entered, and the President inaugurated on the 22d day of February, 1862.

Alabama having no law contravening the act of Congress, the election of members of Congress will take place in this State the first Wednesday in November next.

Evacuation of Harper's Ferry.

The necessity for the relinquishment of this detached post, where so many of our men were restricted within such narrow limits as to be utterly unavailable for any important operations in the field, may not, at the first announcement, be apparent to those who have not kept pace with the progress of events, and may not be familiar with the strategical necessities of the existing military situation. We must have faith in those who control the Government, faith in the justice of our cause, and an abiding trust in the Supreme Ruler of all things. There was always a party starting up against Washington, which served no good purpose. In regard to Harper's Ferry, however, we not the prompt action which relief have answered all the purposes for which it was sent. May not the soldiers, whether of that remote position, or especially needed nearer the center? Have not events which had their origin and culmination outside of the Commonwealth of Virginia and the positions of Virginia to the Confederate States, necessitated the evacuation? Of one thing the country may be assured—the President has a distinct view of the whole field of operations—as will be acknowledged even by those who seek to impeach his motives in the evacuation of Harper's Ferry. Paris would not have fallen in 1871, if Napoleon had made a timely withdrawal of the troops from Northern forts.—[Rich. Eng.

The defeat of Henry Winter Davis for Congress, is one of the most encouraging indications of a favorable turn in the tide of political affairs in Maryland. It shows conclusively that the cause of Loyalism in not in the ascendancy in the Monumental city. He took his position openly and above board on the Yankee platform of coercion and subjugation. Mr. Hicks, competitor, on the other hand, came out emphatically against the Lincoln policy of coercion and subjugation, declaring that he would not vote to appropriate a dollar to the Federal Army, beyond the first three months.

To yet hope of Maryland. We have good reason to believe that in less than three months we may be able to announce that the flag of the South are Confederacy waves proudly over her soil.—[Rich. Eng.

The New Orleans papers report that there is some apprehension with regard to a sudden movement of the enemy ten miles below that city, at Bayou Sherrow. Appearances seem to indicate a purpose of making a landing and destroying the fort at the mouth of the Bayou.—In view of this fact, General Twiggs has ordered a hundred men from New Orleans to take possession of the fort. The Delta, alluding to the fortification, says:—There are eight twenty four pounders in the work, but up to the present time no garrison has been placed there, nor has any ammunition been supplied to the fort. Fort Bisevant is situated about half a mile from the mouth of the Bayou which forms the outlet to Lake Borgne, and is the lowest point on the Mississippi River. It is intended to guard Bayou Phillipes.

Twenty to Twenty the Supreme Court.—The N. Y. Tribune says:

"Just when the rebellion began to assume formidable dimensions, some persons in high place were encouraged to propose that the Supreme Court should be packed with Southern sympathizers. Among those who favored the proposition were some of the judges of the Supreme Court of the United States, and there are in possession of facts which leave no room for doubt that twenty of the twenty judges of the Supreme Court of the United States were in favor of packing the court with twenty Southern sympathizers.

DIED,

Suddenly and mysteriously, in this place, on Wednesday, the 15th instant, GEORGE ASHBY, infant son of George C. and Maggie Ashby, aged 8 months and 26 days.

Sweet lips, that trembling, thus pronounced my name,
To bless the tender parents' ears,
Who watched the opening blossom,
Then hope fondly anticipated the fruit.
The bale so late their darling throw,
Now shrouded in the cold grave.

Those little hands that's rifle no more,
To meet their loving, fond caress,
For death's cold blast, in passing by,
Blighted the flower, and it withered.

Dirt from the hearing, thus pointed out,
Oh! how they loved their darling one,
How much they wished his stay;
But God in wisdom, thought it best
To bring to endless day.

"Suffer little children to come unto me,
"And lay him on my breast;
For of such is the kingdom is see,
And he forgot not."

BY THE GOVERNOR:

A Proclamation.

THE military forces of the Government at Washington having invaded the Territory of Virginia, and shed the blood of the people, and contrary to the Constitution and laws of the same, I, John Letcher, Governor of Commonwealth aforesaid, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and laws of the same, do hereby proclaim and make known to the citizens of Virginia, that I have called forth the military forces of the Commonwealth to repel the invaders of my soil.

And I further do call upon all the good people of this Commonwealth, to defend themselves with the utmost energy against the invading foe, collections of their rights, and resolved to maintain them, nothing doubting, that by the patriotic devotion, concentrated energy and determined will of the people, in free reliance upon the blessing of Divine Providence, we shall be able to maintain the liberty, independence and integrity of our ancient Commonwealth, and her sisters, the Confederate States.

Given under my hand, as Governor, and (L.S.) under the seal of the Commonwealth, at the Capitol, this 25 day of May, in the year of our Lord, and in the 85th year of the Commonwealth.

A NEW CHEAP AND DURABLE ROOFING.

THE undersigned has obtained the agency for the sale of the celebrated

Gutta Percha and India Rubber Roofing Material,

which consists of a thick leather roofing cloth, covered with a composition of Gutta Percha and India Rubber, combined, which not only preserves the cloth, but renders it highly elastic, so that it will not crack or peel off in cold weather. This is nailed on to the boarded roof and then cemented together, forming a complete shell, which we use for building sand, thus giving it in two of three days a surface of stone, and at the same time an elastic roof, which will not crack by the contraction of heat or cold.

Persons desirous of having material thus thoroughly tested in the cities of Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Richmond, and Washington, can do so by calling on the Clerk, with Messrs. Recorst by Architects, Builders and others—many years of experience having demonstrated the fact that it is the best.

Cheapest and Best Roof now in use,

THE COST NOT EXCEEDING 6½ Cts. per Square Foot, being less than sand or gravel roof, cheaper than any other roofing material, and lasting twice as long as any other roofing material, as it will last a life time of 15 to 20 years. Persons desirous of having a roof put on, can see it in use in the city of Richmond, Va., on the Public Facility and Sky-proof. It is adapted to all kinds of roofs, whether steep or flat, on houses, outbuildings, &c., and is applied to old shingle roofs, without the necessity of removing the old shingles, and is a great deal cheaper than to put them down, as they, in most cases, are worthless. Roofs can be applied in dry weather, and be ready for use in two days. Persons desirous of having a roof put on, can do so by calling on the undersigned, or addressing him at Staunton, Va.

Good Counsel is Above all Price.

SUCH was the counsel Franklin gave when he said:

"Take care of the pence, the pounds will take care of themselves."

"Beware of little expenses, for a small leak will sink a great ship."

"Be diligent in adversity and humble in prosperity."

"Be mindful of things past, and provident of things to come."

"Be cheerful, but not too much so."—"Be diligent in your business, and you may hope to stand before kings."

Following these rules with Wm. Miller—and he is already reaping the benefit of them, in his Boot, Shoe, Hat, Cap, Trunk, Valise, Watch, Jewelry, Plated Ware, Clocks, Soap Shirts, Hosiery, Gloves, Cravats, Stocks, Suspenders, Shirt Bosoms, Bretelles, Trunks, Willow Ware, Musical Instruments, Stationery, Forte Monies, Pocket Knives, Razors, Scissors, Spectacles, &c. &c. &c. Good Counsel is above all price, and if he could take all the papers in the State to shower down upon the Clerk, he would not be able to carry them all.

VIRGINIA HOTEL,

The Virginia Public is respectfully invited to the Virginia Hotel, one of the oldest and best hotels in this State, is now owned solely by Moore. Mr. Moore, the Proprietor, is the only person in this whole establishment, to the exception of his servants, if possible, the high reputation which it at present enjoys, shall be not only sustained, but improved to render their guests satisfied and comfortable. The recent additions made to the house, have enabled the proprietor to accommodate a much larger number of guests than formerly. The whole building, in the interior, has undergone a thorough refitting, refitted and painted and looks now "good as new."

The proprietor has secured the services of Mr. Wm. H. Gardner, Jr., well experienced Landlord, and formerly of the Taylor Hotel, Winchester, to assist him in the management of the establishment, thus adding to the Hotel "Capacity and Intellect" sufficient to secure the comfort and convenience of guests. The table will continue, as heretofore, to equal that of any Hotel in the State.

The Proprietor has also secured the services, under the management of Boyer & Co., well known for their experience and ability in the livery business. Horses will be taken on Livery, and Hackney, Buggies and Hacks, will be furnished to guests at reasonable rates.

The Proprietors are well prepared to accommodate Boarders, by the year, or for the Summer months, in this healthy portion of the State.

The Bar is well supplied and attended to, and the Proprietor will spare no pains to please.

In this Hotel there are two of Fielding's New and Improved Patent-tables and Patent-tables and BILLIARD TABLES.

Mr. H. Boyer, who has been so long connected with this Hotel, is still with it, and devotes to the accommodation of the guests. He is tried, and for any thing he knows to the contrary, faithful and would respectfully ask a continuance of his patronage.
