The formation Reports

And the first property and the property of the property tanght in the text:

That civil government is a Divine institute. "Whosewer therefore resistent the power, resistely the ordinance of God."

The good of sucety is the fundamental reason so which all covernments are based. It is therefore a matter that cannot be dispensed with all planears. God has ordained it, and the constitution of the universe demands it. The Jownshitton was a divine instrument, but with that acception, all other nations have been permitted to form their own plans of government, and so elect their own rulers. And from the Temple of Liberty, founded upon the rock of Procedom. Now as the people cannot rule by their naminess voice, and to permit the minority to rule would be manifestly unjust, it therefore devides upon the majority to govern the state. And this in the genius of the Constitution of the United States. There are two ways is which the Chief Magistrate may be chosen, and three are either a printing or by Divine Providence. When the Lord mild to Sanuel, "Arise anomint him, for this is be," then was David the son of Josse made hing over all Larach by Divine appointment. And when Abraham Lincoln was elected Prevident of the United States by a contitutional majority of risty-four in the electron college, he became the Chief Magistrate of this creat Republic by Divine Providence. But if after you have counted the votes that elected him, you weigh then, you will be arm that the intelligence and morality of this great nation made him President. Learn that it is sin against God to resist the civil government, because 'tis rebellion against God.

In order to secure the blessings of the Constitution, a Legislative, unliked and Executive Department of Government are appointed by the people, to make, applies and executive the have made in accordance with its provisions. An oath of offer is administered to the public servant, binding him to be true to the Constitution by one of Missouri into the displant of the spirit and letter. Now if the Chief Magistrate is altitude to keep the proper of the institution of Slavery, so-called, is the rock upon which the seel mengers would build their temple of Liberty. We have read of a man who build his house upon the rock, and of another who build his house upon the and, but her ear come who build their house upon nothing. In opart of the drive code has God ordered and appointed the institution of Slavery. It is therefore no man's duty to become a slaveholder. The Blavery which God permitted among the Hebrews was voluntary, limited to a certain time, compensated, and consisted only in service. LIEUT. GEN. U. S. GRANT.

Lieut. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant was born in Mount Pleasant, Ohio, in 1622, and is now 42 years of age. He entered West Point in 1829, and graduated in 1843, when he entered the army as a brevet 2nd Lieutenant in the 4th Infantry. He received his full commission at Corpus Christi in 1845, and with that rank participated in the Mexican campaign under Gens. Taylor and Scott. He was breveted 1st Lieutenant. September 8th, 1847, for heroism at Molina del Rey, and Captain at Chapultapee. In 1852 he was ordered to Oregon, and in 1853 was made a full Captain. In 1854 he resigned his position in the army, and first settled in Missouri, but afterwards moved to Galena, Illinois, where he embarked in mercantle pursuits. The robedlion called him again into active service, and he was commissioned as Colonel of the 21st Illinois volunteers in June, 1861, and in Judy of the same year he was appointed Brigadier General of volunteers and placed in command at Cairo. In November, 1861, he fought the battle of Belmont, and in Jumanry, 1862, conducted the famons reconnoissance to the rear of Columbus. On the 6th of February Fort Henry capitulated to Commodore Foote before Gen. Grant's land force had reached the scene or action, and ten days later Fort Donelson surrendered after a sanguinary battle. He was then made commander of the Military District of West Tennessee, and his forces were advanced up that river to Pittsburg Landing. On the 6th April. he was attacked there by Gen. Johnston with greatly superior numbers, before Gen. Buell had joined the Union army, and after a most desperate struggle Gen. Grant was compelled to fall back upon the river. Gen. Buell arriving that night, the Union forces assumed the offensive the next morning and defeated the rebel army with the loss of General A. Sydney Johnston and many other officers killed. He was second in command to Gen. Halleck during the siege of Corinta, and when the latter was ordered to Washington, he was appointed to take command of the Department of Tennessee. have no whining complaints—no heata-tion; no political disquisitions; but he evidently means to mass his forces at the points to be assailed at once, and then to strike with the energy that knows no such word as fail. The two most homored, successful and trusted commanders of both sides, are about to hurl the best armies of the continent against each other, and the issue of Order or Anarchy trembles in the balance. To the Elitore of the Legislative Record, has failed into an error in reporting my remarks, as failed into an error in reporting my remarks, as to the character of the claims of the citizens of Cumberland Valley, for damages occasioned by the robot raid, &c. I task that I had been informed by one of the appraisers, that therewere as many of the claims which are grasping or immoderate. Such was the information I had received. The error arose by the omission in the report of the word sea. In your celtural of the 16th, you state that I disclaim having need the expression: but still I wish to deep it explicitly. The discussiner is contained in a letter addressed to the Senior Editor, probably on the 11th inst. In the same letter I speak of the other ground of complaint, called "an ungenerous fling," against citizens who are named in your editorial and who, I believe to be gentleman of great respectability and worth. I know not why what I said in that letter of those gentleman, was not spoken of as well as the disclaimer on the other point. I think that it would have been no more than just to myord sa well as the disclaimer on the other point. I with that it would have been no more than just to myord ray will be them, if it had been. This would have probably shown that I made "no ungenerous fling" at them or said anything unkind or disparaging of them.

So far as I recollect, the other subjects referred to in the editorial, they are fair matter for comment, and I will nether complain of the spirit in which they are criticised nor enter into a defence of the acts themselves.

I write this note with the desire that it may be published in the Represerval.

Very Respectfully Yours,

Learnet Albert, thou has left us,
Left us in this world of won.

End to in this world of won.

Snatched away our foud, doar hoy,
All our hopes in thee are perished.

Brightest rem our household wore.
At thy word traile our receives sanished,
trief found no room with thou wert here.

Grief found no room when thou wer
Like some fragile bud of morning.
Plucked e'er seen in perfect bloom,
Thou, our dearest treasure, Athert,
Hast been hurried to the tomb.

Jane E., wife of W. S. Sevent, See, aged about 23 years.

The many affecting providence that here lately occurred in our community, this one is saily pre-minent. A young win, a mother, is suddenly removed from the family order; and thus in one years of the control of the cont
