WILL LEE MOVE NORTH?

Several leading journals have persisted in defining a Spring campaign for Gen. Lee, involving the early invasion of Pennsylvania, and a simultaneous movement by Johnston into Kentucky and Ohio.

Gen. Lee's first offensive movement was made just after he had driven Gen. McClellan back upon the James River; raised the siege of Richmond, and subsequently defeated Gen. Pope, driving the Union army into the entrenchments of Washington.

The disastrous fields of Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville next crimsoned the pages of our history, and the Spring of 1863 saw Treason strengthened by triumphs in almost every section of the Union.

The Iron-clads had been repulsed at Charleston; Grant had reeled back in bloody failure from his assaults upon Vicksburg; Banks had vainly attempted to storm Port Hudson with terrible losses; several of our best Iron-clads had been captured by the rebels on the Mississippi.

hurling the invader and his defiant hosts back upon the Potomac, with half his warriors killed, wounded or deserted. Glad again was the rebel chief of Virginia; and his dead were left for burial and his wounded for mercy, in the hands of the people whose land he sought to desolate.

Since then the Army of the Potomac and the Army of Northern Virginia have not met in battle. Each has sent its gifts to the South-west, and each has shared in triumph on the historic soil of East Tennessee. Longstreet brought victory to Bragg; Hooker wrested it from him in his terrible charge above the clouds on Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge; and the campaign closed with the signal discomfiture of treason.

Looking at the positions and relative strength of the opposing armies, we cannot regard the invasion of the North as any part of Gen. Lee's plan for the Spring campaign. If in this war, it must be because Gen. Lee and the rebel cause are much weaker and nearer the verge of despair than we have supposed.

THE MUTATIONS OF POLITICS.

The apportionment of the State into legislative districts, with the manifest view of making the Union strength of the State most available in maintaining legislative ascendancy, recalls to us the singular political mutations exhibited in the last ten years.

The revolution of 1854 severed the North from the Democracy, and it has since been most faithful in its adhesion to Freedom; but beyond that immediate section of the State, the people have cut all manner of fantastic tricks politically.

The Senate has fixed the 29th inst. for the final adjournment of the legislature, and our advisers indicate that the House will convene. If so but two weeks remain for the passage of all the important public bills, not one of which has reached even to second reading in either branch.

Democratic members three times in the last seven years. Every county South of the Susquehanna had Democratic members in 1858, excepting one only in Franklin; and the same year Somerset, Huntingdon and Blair each contributed one to the two-thirds Democratic vote in the House.

Equally imperious is the necessity for a revision of our revenue laws. The treasury is literally bankrupt, with immense resources and unparalleled prosperity in every channel of industry and trade. The revolutionary experiment of the Democratic Senators cost the State over half a million dollars by defeating legislation authorizing the payment of the interest in currency; and it has so depleted the treasury that it is unequal to the ordinary demands of the government with the vast drafts made upon it to provide for our soldiers.

But a little more than one year ago, the Franklin, Adams, Fulton, Bedford and Somerset district elected a Democratic Congressman—defeating a strong and efficient Representative who had twice carried the district with Junius in place of Somerset. The Dauphin, Juniata, Union, Snyder and Northumberland district also elected a Democrat, in the face of 1,000 majority that ought to be. Hon. J. H. Campbell, who had three times been chosen in Schuylkill and Northumberland, was defeated by the exchange of Lebanon for Northumberland; and Grow was defeated 2,000 by Luzerne with over 12,000 majority in Susquehanna, although Luzerne had gone Republican three years out of the previous four. Indiana was also overborne by Congress in 1862 by counties which have voted with her more than half the time since 1858, and so with Lawrence, in their favorite candidates.

THE U. S. Senate, on Friday last, adopted by a vote of 38 to 6, the following proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States: It is resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, two-thirds of both Houses concurring, that the following article be proposed to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures, shall be valid to all intents and purposes a part of said Constitution.

Such are the mutations of political history in this State; and if there is any man shrewd enough to make an apportionment, based upon the experience of the past, that will promise Union supremacy in the legislature for seven years to come, his laurels will be of the rarest order.

LEGISLATION—OUR FINANCES.

The Senate has fixed the 29th inst. for the final adjournment of the legislature, and our advisers indicate that the House will convene. If so but two weeks remain for the passage of all the important public bills, not one of which has reached even to second reading in either branch.

We appreciate the anxiety of members to get home, and especially the Union members, who have been in no degree responsible for the worse than waste of two months of the session; but the responsibility of legislation is upon the Union party; and the personal convenience of members must not weigh against the great interests of the State, already fearfully periled in credit by the unscrupulous treachery of the Democracy. The appropriation and apportionment bills will be passed of course; but the revision of our revenue and militia laws is demanded most imperatively. Our militia is entirely without organization, and in case of invasion an army has to be created for local defence, at enormous cost and with perilous delay, and when organized it lacks in every element of efficiency save in the single quality of destructiveness upon friends. If we had a well organized militia, uniformed, armed, equipped and officered by skillful men, we could call out fifty thousand men at any time, and they would have some degree of organization at once; and if not eminently efficient against the foe, they would at least not leave as monuments of their triumphs a line of march marked by wanton destruction.

Both branches of the legislature have reported legislative apportionments, differing materially as to some parts of the State, but harmonizing as to the districts in this section. Franklin and Adams constitute our new Senatorial district, and Adams has one member while Franklin and Perry are associated to elect two members. Somerset, Bedford and Fulton elect two members jointly and one Senator. York has three members and Cumberland one, and the two counties form a Senatorial district. Either bill might be called a clear double shuffle on the Democracy; but we do not see any gerrymandering as crowding Franklin down by a little county like Fulton, in imitation of the Democratic apportionment of 1857. Little Perry has struggled nobly since her revulsion against the Democracy in 1854, and is one of the few faithful among the faithless in the Southern tier of counties.

LIEUT. GEN. GIANT has, by general order, notified all soldiers, citizens and other non-combatants to move to the rear on or before the 16th, because of the near approach of the time when this army may be expected to resume active operations. The order means that he may move any time after the 16th; that he does not care who knows it, and that he will have none but fighting men with him when he does move.

FULTON COUNTY has elected Mr. Edgar King, Esq., Representative delegate to the Union State Convention, and ratified in advance the choice of Franklin for Senatorial delegate.

HON. JOHN BANKS, of Reading, died suddenly last week. He was at one time a very prominent Whig politician in this State—having represented one of the Western districts in Congress, some thirty years ago. In 1841 he was the Whig candidate for Governor against Porter, but was defeated, and in 1847 he was elected State Treasurer. He was a native of Juniata county, and was popularly known as "Honest John Banks." He has practiced law in Reading for over twenty years.

THE steamship Persia, with European dates to the 27th ult., arrived at New York last Wednesday evening. Queen Victoria, it is reported, will shortly hold two State receptions. A. A. Phelps, of New York, has been elected to the office of Secretary of the Union State Convention, and in 1847 he was elected State Treasurer. He was a native of Juniata county, and was popularly known as "Honest John Banks." He has practiced law in Reading for over twenty years.

THE friends of Gen. Fremont held a meeting in Pittsburg last week to present his name for the Presidency. Ex-Major Barker presided, and Gov. Johnston was the chief speaker. How many delegates will ally themselves to the Half-Breed Convention for Fremont? If any one county in the State is more for Lincoln than another, it is Allegheny.

UNION STATE CONVENTION.

The loyal men of Pennsylvania, comprising the National Union party, will meet in State Convention, in the Hall of the House of Representatives, at Harrisburg, on Thursday, April 29th, 1864. Each delegate will be entitled to the same representation as now law in the State Legislature, and the delegates will be chosen at such times and in such manner as shall be directed by the respective county committees.

The selection of the district delegates from Pennsylvania to the National Convention is left, where it properly belongs, to the people assembled in their county conventions; but the different county committees are earnestly requested to adopt such measures as will procure a full attendance at their respective conventions, and thereby secure, in the choice of delegates, a full and fair expression of the will of the people.

THE Union State Convention met at Harrisburg on Wednesday last, and was very fully attended by members or their substitutes. After a free exchange of sentiment, a State Convention was called to meet at Harrisburg on Thursday, the 29th of this month. There was entire unanimity in the preference for ABRAHAM LINCOLN as the Union candidate for President, and it cannot be doubted that the preference reflected the earnest conviction of the Union men of Pennsylvania. The State Convention will be entirely harmonious in its instructions for our present patriotic and faithful National Executive; and contents, if any, must be on mere matters of detail.

The time is short for the selection of delegates in some counties; but promptness of action by local committees will insure a full representation. The district delegates to the National Convention are to be selected by local conferences; and while electing delegates to the State Convention, Congressional conferences should also be chosen by the several counties. Two National delegates are to be elected in each district.

Franklin and Adams constitute our new Senatorial district, and Adams has one member while Franklin and Perry are associated to elect two members. MORTON'S GOLD PENS are now sold at all stores as before the commencement of the war. This is entirely owing to the fact that the inventor's business in machinery, his present large Metal Business and Cash-in-Advance system; for, well he commenced advertising, his business was done in credit, and strictly paid for in advance. The Morton Gold Pens are the only ones sold at old prices, as the makers of all other Gold Pens charge the Premium on Gold, Government Tax, and Morton has in no case changed his price, while all others have.

Of the great numbers sent by mail to all parts of the world during the past few years, not one in a thousand has failed to reach its destination, a matter showing that the Morton Gold Pen can be obtained by any one, in every part of the world, at the same price, postage only excepted. Readers, you can have an experienced, always ready, and reliable Gold Pen, exactly adapted to your hand and style of writing, which will do you writing vastly cheaper than Steel Pens; and at the same time almost entirely free from the "blacking" every thing you can have a Morton Gold Pen furnished in proportion to the labor spent upon it and material used, than any other Gold Pen in the world. If you want one, call on A. Morton, 207 N. 3rd Street, New York, or inclose a stamp for circular.

HEPPEL'S CELEBRATED STOMACH PILLS are one of the greatest remedies for indigestion, flatulency, &c. It is especially adapted to those who are afflicted with the Fever and Ague, or any other disease arising from a disordered condition of the digestive organs. For the cure of the above diseases, no medicine in the world equal to it, as it purifies, purifies and replenishes the blood, which is so important to bring about a healthy action in the system of the human body. It is the most popular, and at the same time, valuable medicine in the medical world. It is recommended to the public, we are fully convinced, of doing them a great service, knowing, as we do, the high quality, and sure and speedy action in all cases where the disease is caused by irregularity of the digestive organs. A trial will suffice for the most skeptical. See advertisement for Heppe's Pills and dealers generally, everywhere. MARKED.

A NEW PILL FOR LIFE.—Dr. Radway's Pills have granted me a new lease of life. For five years I have suffered with Dyspepsia, Constipation, Indigestion. I have taken a cart-load of pills of different make, but the relief afforded by their operation was at the cost of severe suffering. I have tried if I could not take these Pills one week, the relief and difficulty would trouble me. I had struck a vein of gold in Radway's Pills—the first acted so effectively on all other pills, and I have a cure in a few boxes made a man of me. I no longer feel any of my ailments, no piles, no weakness followed their use. I attained strength with their use. I do not take any more pills for a year, and am as robust, strong and hearty as a bear. JAMES S. FORD, Clinton Town, Clinton county, N.Y.
