Who Elected Mr. Harris to Congress?

The "Spectator," in its last issue, says: "The question as to which political party in this Congressional District is entitled to the honor, or must bear the responsibility, of having elected Mr. Harris, is much discussed in private conversation." The Spectator then exhibits a table of figures, after which, it says, that "no one can accuse the Opposition of having defeated Mr. Skinner." The Whig, too, seems somewhat exercised upon this point. It remarks: "The leaders of the Democracy about here blame the Whigs for electing Mr. Harris, but if we look where it legitimately belongs." It afterwards adds: "We venture the assertion that Mr. Skinner has received as many, if not more, Whig votes than Mr. Harris has received." Now we venture the assertion that Mr. Skinner did not receive more than one out of every five votes cast by the Whigs and Americans in the Congressional contest. We further venture the assertion that Mr. Skinner has a majority of not less than two thousand of the Democratic vote of the District; and we strongly incline to the opinion that, in the end, it will appear that Mr. Harris has received as many, if not more, votes from the Whigs and Americans than he has from the Democracy. But we hope by our next issue to have all the facts, and a full and accurate analysis of the vote in each county, before us; at present we shall have to content ourselves with a partial analysis, which will serve, however, to foreshadow the correctness of our assertions. The table we furnish if not strictly accurate is nearly so. It shows how the Democratic and Opposition votes were divided between Mr. Skinner and Mr. Harris in five counties:

Dem. Vots.		Whig & Amer. Vots.
Skinner	Harris	Skinner	Harris
Ansgia,	1278	82	104
Rockingham,	130	1474	101
Shenandoah,	724	1190	217
Bath,	215	12	18
Highland,	403	40	30
	3955	2660	2198
	2600

S. D. Dem. vs. 833 Harris' Oppo. maj. 1432

It will be seen that in these five counties

Mr. Skinner has a 53% majority of the Democratic vote, while in the same counties Mr. Harris has a majority of 1432 of the Whig and American vote. It further appears that in the three counties of Rockingham, Shenandoah and Augusta—combined, Mr. Skinner has a Democratic majority of 264 votes; and that even in Augusta, where Mr. Skinner receives his largest vote from the Whig and Americans, the vote cast by them for Mr. Harris is nearly double that cast by them for Mr. Skinner. The remainning counties will swell Mr. Skinner's Democratic majority to not less than 2000, while they will increase the Whig and American vote cast for Mr. Harris until it will probably equal, if it does not exceed the vote cast for him by the Democracy.—

We will resume this subject hereafter.

Who Defeated Mr. Skinner?

The Spectator argues that inasmuch as the Democratic Party has a majority in this district and could have elected Mr. Skinner if their vote had been concentrated upon him, therefore, having failed to vote unanimously for him they defeated him. There is no question that Mr. Skinner has received a majority of not less than 2000 of the Democratic vote of the District, and that the "Opposition" not voted at all Mr.

Skinner would have been triumphantly elected. Now let us suppose that John Smith and John Jones, are engaged in a hand to hand encounter in which Smith will inevitably be victorious if the parties are left alone and nobody interferes, but John Brown comes up and takes sides with Jones against Smith, and, in the end, Smith is overcome. Who defeats Smith, Jones whom he would have whipped, or Brown who turns the scales against him? The Whig and American vote cast for Mr. Harris in Augusta is about double that cast by Mr. Skinner.—We are not so much as to jeopardize their country in exchange for probable personal advancement, Mr. Letcher's majority exceeded that of Mr. Wise by several thousands.

We invite especial attention to these facts, and ask the Democrats to remember the great danger they have just escaped, and let their war-about hereafter be, "Down with the Independents."

And again: the whole of the State in 1855 gave an aggregate vote for Wise and Flournoy of more than 156,600, of which about 78,000 belonged to Flournoy;—now until it can be shown that Mr. Goggin has received more than 78,000 votes, it is unbecoming in the press to mislead the people into the absurdity of shouting a triumph and claiming a victory for the anecdote marty. All conceded that Flournoy was beaten; in fact we believe he rather gave it up himself; and now Mr. Goggin and his fellows in affliction have the unparalleled efforts, with a minority less than a minority—a badly whipped minority—to cry

"Victory," and "Triumph," and to perpetuate sundry other absurdities.

Indeed, the editor of the Richmond Whig (with the full knowledge of all this) has the marvellous impudence to tell the people of Virginia and "others" to send him 10,000 new subscribers, as a slight tribute to his distinguished merit in the past canvass.—

We think that our friend should at least content himself with a new subscriber for each convert; and, tested by the Whig vote of 1855, and said vote in 1859, we promisto do all in our power to secure the allowed number; even though we must traverse the State on foot, in acutal of our vow.

In conclusion, we call upon our Democratic brethren throughout of Virginia and the South to unite with us in sincere prayer to the Almighty, that he may never make our home by a "Whig-voter," but continue to share our spirits with "ugly adversaries" which "bear such prejudice" as John Letcher.

S. M. Goggin, after "the hundred days," has returned to the headquarters, which he so fondly deserved in his Staunton speech. We wish him a long and prosperous private life, and trust that he yet possesses vitality sufficient to stand the great emotion that must swell his bosom over the "triumphant victory."

But if he should, we will only say with Hood,

"Never offend."

MARRIED.

On the 4th inst., by the Rev. C. Davis, Mr. Wm. L. Lamb to Miss Mary E. Brown, all of this county.

DEEDS.

In Cincinnati, May 20th, Mr. JOHN WALKER, son of Alexander Walker of this County, in the 35th year of his age, and promising youth had ripened into a manhood whose integrity and purity were known by his associates to be of the highest order. These and other admirable qualities greatly endeared him to his friends. For some time past his health had been impaired, and during much of that time his sufferings were almost times of martyrdom. Those afflictions were aggravated by the grace of God, who bore with a martyr's patience his trials and agonies, manifested in a uniformly peaceful and bright with the hope of a blessed immortality. Though called to die far from home (which he was endeavoring to reach), yet it was the mournful privilege of his friends to bear his mortal remains to the graveyard of Augusta Church, where they rest with honored dust awaiting the "resurrection unto eternal life."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NERVOUS DISEASES CONTROLLED AND CONQUERED.

Of all the varieties which detract from the enjoyment of human life, most of them may be traced to a disordered condition of the nervous system. The best known cases of disease in the Black River area of this State, this cause, or causes, we believe, are, on several occasions before us, have alluded to the nervous curse, or malady, of Pitts, made by vegetable Extract. After being injected and prepared by Mr. F. H. Miller, it is satisfied that Pitts have cured some of the most stubborn cases of Epilepsy, as well as the milder forms of Pitts, such as Severe Cramps, Spasms, &c. We now prefer the following as a safe and certain remedy to all diseases of the nervous system, and to the graveyards of Augusta Church, where they rest with honored dust awaiting the "resurrection unto eternal life."
