

DEMOCRATIC LEADERSHIP.

FRIDAY, NOV. 8, 1860.

S. M. YANCEY, Editor and Proprietor

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

FOR SENATE,

S. A. DOUGLAS,

OF ILLINOIS.

FOR THE PRESIDENCY,

H. V. JOHNSON,

OF GEORGIA.

DEMOCRATIC ELECTORAL TICKET.

1st Dist. — GEORGE BLOW, Newark City.

2d Dist. — W. L. HOPKINS, Petersburg.

3d Dist. — J. R. STANFORD, Hallieville.

4th Dist. — JAMES GALT, Newbern.

5th Dist. — J. C. STODDARD, Newbern.

6th Dist. — J. H. COX, Chester.

7th Dist. — J. R. ALLSWORTH, Acworth.

8th Dist. — G. H. C. HOWE, Spotsylvania.

9th Dist. — W. B. BROWN, Alexandria.

10th Dist. — J. W. LINDGREN, Rockingham.

11th Dist. — D. H. HUGO, Montgomery.

12th Dist. — W. H. WILKINS, Washington.

13th Dist. — G. J. STUART, Dodgeville.

14th Dist. — WM. G. BROWN, Franklin.

Brockbridge Club.

Howe Y. Weston, Esq., will address the Brockbridge Club at the Court House to-night. The ladies are invited to attend.

Douglas Club.

Gan. Wm. H. Harman will address the Democracy of Staunton and vicinity, to-morrow (Saturday) night, at the Court house. It is the regular meeting of the Douglas Club. All turn out! The ladies are respectfully requested to attend.

Woodstock Club.

Three of our subscribers who wish to pay their subscriptions in Woodstock, will please do so as soon as possible, before the winter fully sets in.

Electoral Tickets.

We are now prepared to furnish Electoral tickets for either of the parties. Orders, especially from a distance, had better be sent in early.

General editorial articles unavoidably crowded out this week.

Judge Douglas spoke on the 29th ult., at St. Louis, to 30,000 people.

State elections come off on the 5th inst. in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa and Minnesota.

Fannie E. Christman is appointed post-mistress at Melrose, Rockingham county, vice Ellen Christman, dec'd.

Dr. Pease, of Hanover, Mo., was recently bitten on the big toe by a spider and died a few days from the effects.

The cars on the Central Road coasted running on Sundays, the first of this month, and have only lately, a week past, been discontinued.

W. Lamb, Brockbridge, and L. H. Chandler, Bell Electors, had a festive-set-to last Friday evening during a discussion between them. The everlasting nigger was there.

See the first page of the Vindicator for interesting matter. The confutation of the tissue of falsehoods contained in the article of "John Hancock" is overwhelming. Original matter will also be found on that page.

We are indebted to the Messrs. Herman, at Blake's Shoe Store, for Harper for September; also for Harper's Weekly. They both contain a large amount of interesting reading matter, and a number of illustrations.

Our friend, Rev. Dr. Downey, has again placed us under obligations of him by sending us a lot of nice turnips—the first we have had this season. He will please accept our thanks, with the assurance that rich Douglas turnips are not hard to take.

J. J. Seibels, Esq., offers for sale his moiety in the Montgomery (Ala.) Confederation. Mr. S. is desirous of entering upon a more congenial pursuit after the present canvass. The Confederation is liberally patronized, and no doubt is a good investment.

Col. Willy Oldham, of Marshall county, is striking some hard blows for Douglas and Johnson in the Northwest. Col. O. is one of the most polished gentlemen with whom we have ever met—seeking no political society, but acting in the present contest purely from an honest conviction of duty. It is such men as the present exigencies of the country have called from private walks to active public efforts. The People versus the Politicians.

We are indebted to the wife of Mr. John Beard, living near Mim Spring, for specimens of the sweet-apple we have seen in a number of years—the Long Island Green, Bell Flower and Spisbergen. Also for a tomato of enormous size, in itself a mess for a large family. These specimens are all of the Douglas growth—which doth account for their size. They speak well for the care and culture of the farm, bestowed by its owner, Mr. Beard.

Hugh W. Cheney, Esq., of Staunton, addressed the Bell and Everett men of Richmond on Saturday night last. The King speaks of it as an able and effective effort. Col. J. B. Baldwin and A. H. H. Stuart, Esq., of Staunton, addressed a political meeting at Charlottesville last week. The King says that Col. Baldwin is a high moral and forcible speaker than Mr. Stuart, and we are a more favorable impression with the latter.

We call attention to the advertisement of Dr. C. W. Hardin in today's "Vindicator." The property he offers for sale is one of the most desirable situations in the County of Augusta—handsomely improved and in a neighborhood remarkable for its health and the refinement and intelligence of its people. West Union, on the Parkersburg Turnpike, is the next, leading little village.

We notice in the recent announcement of appointments by Gen. Lee, that Col. Bedford A. Howell, Mo., has received the place of Inspector of Quarantine, at Richmond.

Our Friends' Disagreements.

One of the single arguments of the secessionists is that the election of Lincoln will be a practical declaration that the people of the North are at war with the people of the South. This assumption contrary to the actual facts in the case, and prejudicial to the conservative sentiment of the North. Let the conservative, national, union-loving element of the North have a hand-to-hand combat with the financial borderers who, with regard impelled, seek to destroy the force of constitutional oligarchy and infuse upon the rights of the citizens of our portion of the confederacy, and we will guarantee that the friends of equality and the Constitution will significantly triumph over the isomites. Instead of that, however, party leaders, and designing demagogues initiate political movements which are calculated to divide the conservative sentiment, and thus give power to an united and consolidated enemy who is really in the minority. There is a preponderance in favor of conservatism in the North, decidedly and uncompromisingly friendly to all the guaranteed rights of the South, yet when divided it is powerless to accomplish the very object for which we blame them in failing to effect. We should no more hold the great mass of the Northern people responsible for the Personal Liberty Bills of Massachusetts and Vermont, than should the divisions which paralyze their efforts to give practical efficiency to their real sentiments. It is hypocrisy and cowardice and ingratitude in us to charge the brave and high-souled men of the North with being our enemies when they are daily grappling with an avowed foe and seeking to bring him to death. There never has been exhibited a greater and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded together in a common fight against the avowed enemy of the South. When and where has ever been presented in the political history of the country another spectacle of love for the right than in this union? It is for our rights that they have united—it is to defend us that these brave and true men have come together to beat out our enemies. And yet men in the South talk about dissolving their connection with such men! Not if a Black Republican should be elected by the divisional states.

—If the Democracy were overthrown, it would rot and die, giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies." Mark—it was merely a matter of policy with him to keep the Democracy united then, and not to bring his high-honored principles and historical and canonized patriotism of the Democracy to nought. The "Southern issue" was perhaps the grandest and more sublime devotion to the Union and the constitutional rights of the South than the late fusion in New York between the friends of three candidates for the Presidency opposed to the irrepressible conflict candidate. Laying aside party attachments, yielding up party organizations and individual predilections as a holy obligation upon the altar of the Constitution and the Union, the conservative element has banded

The Standard		NEW ADVERTISEMENT
Mr. Yancey stated that Douglas was one of the Democrats party, and presented as evidence that all the Southerners were against him on the territorial "debate". All the Southern and Democratic Senators voted for the Senate resolutions but Messrs. Pugh and Douglas. But how did they vote when Mr. Brown, of Miss., proposed to reduce the doctrine of the resolutions to pending? All but three voted against the doctrine, and thus rendered themselves as presenting a series of resolutions for no other purpose but to defeat Judge Douglas for his Presidency.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Mr. Yancey said his remarks were very widely noticed in our political sentiments, yet, in justice to him, we must say, that his speech inspired the approbation of all parties. After Mr. H. concluded, the Whigs repaired to the School-house for the purpose of forming a Hall and Everett Club, whereon, on motion, John Churchill, was called to the Chair. He returned many thanks to his fellow-citizens for the hearty endorsement given him, and concluded his remarks by introducing Powell Harrison, Esq., to the meeting, who arose, and attempted to make a powerful effort in the shape of a speech, but his heterogeneity was composed of slurs at the great Democratic Administration. Mr. H. attributed the large increase of the Republicans to Mr. Pierce's Administration, and asserted that under Mr. Fillmore's Administration the Republicans had diminished considerably, while under Mr. Pierce's they had increased to the great number of 100-241. He next alluded to our tributary Democratic champion, Hon. Stephen A. Douglas. His remarks on Judge Douglas were simply opposing his Negative Scrutiny views. He stated that he stood no chance of election, and that we should sacrifice him on the altar of his country, and rally around the standard of Bell and Everett and save the Union. Wall, Mr. Editor, we do not believe any such arguments as Mr. H.'s. He would always believe that Judge Douglas stood no chance at all in this contest, and that Mr. Bell was the only man who could preserve the Union of these States. Why it was he did not tell us John Bell's principles, we do not know, but, happily, we know something about the man who was opposed to the annexation of a slave State (Texas) and urged out during Polk's war with Mexico, that he hoped the Mexican would welcome our soldiers "still bloody hands to hospitable graves". Did not the equal rights Bell say so? We took up.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Mr. Yancey said last Wednesday, that Alabama went for Non-Intervention at Cincinnati Convention because it was good faith to the Nebraska Bill. Why did Alabama then desert and break her faith at Charleston in 1860? Was not the same Nebraska Bill the law of the land? If non-intervention was the doctrine of the Nebraska Bill in 1850, is it not also in 1860?		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Mr. Yancey cant quibble out of the position that he and the politicians of his State forced to屈自己 to virtually nothing to organic law to break up the Slave party. Mr. Yancey knew that nothing else could result from his intervention doctrine but a disruption of the Democracy, for a voluntary assembly of people had a right to enact legislation. He was also participating.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Not a Nutmeg. Mr. Yancey declared in his speech here that he was not a nullifier in 1832—1834, but a position Mr. Y. seemed to take great pride to add the "nullifier," was induced leading paper in the Northern part of S. C., and assisted Gen. Jackson in his efforts to dismember the confederacy of that any man who voted for Breckinridge, was being born into the Breckinridge party, and not having been so successful, to be a nullifier. How is it possible for any other party to object to the declaration of Senator Breckinridge, when he dealt morally gently with Judge Douglas' friends. Per. Douglas, that he could never accomplish that the Douglass men will unite with the coys right in 1832. Judge Douglas was right in 1832, but he was not a nutmeg, he was a position Mr. Y. seemed to take great pride to add the "nullifier."		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Mon. H. A. Wise. A letter received sometime ago by a gentleman to this place from Hon. H. A. Wise, assigned on a reason why he had not spoken in this canvass, the urgent necessity for his presence at home in arranging his domestic affairs. At the time, he indicated that this statement should be made in order to prevent any misconception of his absence, for all his wife, his son, and daughter, and friends and party were with the Breckinridge and pro-slavery party. Since the letter to which we refer was received, Mr. Wise has made a speech in Norfolk. This statement is written at the request of a friend of Gov. Wise, and also of Mr. Breckinridge.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Fine Grapes. Our excellent friend Prof. Job Turner, with that kindness so characteristic of his nature, left at our office one day last week, a basket full of the best and most delicious grapes we have ever seen or tasted. The bunches were large and closely filled with fine, sweet, plump grapes, of the most delicate flavor. The yield of his vines, he informs us, is abundant this season. We know they must be in a fine state of cultivation to produce such fruit as he presented us. He will please accept our thanks.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Latest from Europe. The steamer Glasgow arrived from Liverpool, has written a long and able letter in favor of Judge Douglas and now views.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
The ground on which the Supreme Court decided that the question, and set the case down to the lower Court, with directions to transfer the suit, was exactly this, and nothing but this namely; that a negro, or a person of African descent, whether bond or free, cannot be a citizen of the United States. But, at the same time, several of the Judges, and a majority of them, not only gave that decision to the lower Court, but they went on to express their opinions upon the question which had been argued by the bar, as to whether Congress had the constitutional power to prohibit slaves, very in the Territories. These opinions, however, expressed by the judges on that subject, did not constitute the direction which they gave to the Court, nor the judge that they gave in the case.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
When Walker was surrendered to Capt. Salmon, he made the following protest:		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
I hereby protest, before the crystallized world, that when I surrendered to the Captain of Her Majesty's steamer Icarus, that officer expressly received my sword and pistol, as well as the sword of Capt. Walker, the surrender was complete and so many words to him, as the Representative of Her Britannic Majesty. W. W. WALKER, on board the steamer Icarus, September 5, 1860.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
He surrendered to the British command, who asked him and Col. Rudler of what country or government they claimed protection. Walker's answer was, "That of Nigeria." He was then asked if he desired to place himself under the protection of the British Govt. He replied, "No; that he had no claim to that government." "Then, is it said the British officer rep'd, "As you have no government, I will insure you one, and he ordered that he be delivered over to the Honourable Office, which him and Col. Rudler agreed.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
New Orleans, Sept. 28.—The British Ambassador to the Confederacy has been quarantined. She has on board the remains of Gen. Walker's army. Walker was shot dead at the 12th mile. The two ships were fired at him, and paid the debts of the nation. He was interred buried by the Confederates, the natives refusing to take any part in the ceremony.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
The remains of Kennedy, have now been removed to the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
TAYLOR & HOGE. ESTABLISHED IN 1850. Dry Goods, Groceries, Quackware, Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
The Standard has taken a large number of customers in the Roman Territory besides Perugia and Spoleto.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Garibaldi was advancing upon Ancona, and the late Neapolitan fleet was to assist him on the Adriatic.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
It has been rumored that the Pope intended to make a decided victory. Lancer dice were defeated with great loss.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
The Standard have taken numerous other places in the Roman Territory besides Perugia and Spoleto.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Garibaldi was advancing upon Ancona, and the late Neapolitan fleet was to assist him on the Adriatic.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
It has been rumored that the Pope intended to make a decided victory. Lancer dice were defeated with great loss.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
The remains of Kennedy, have now been removed to the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
TAYLOR & HOGE. ESTABLISHED IN 1850. Clothing and Cazimores.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
We have just received an assemblage of Fine Cut Cheving Tobacco, including Goodwin & Co's, Anderson & Co's, and others, and a large quantity of Plastation; Anderson & Co's, and others, which is to be sold at a low price.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker.—The Nashville American, after referring to the fate of this brave soldier, with 9,000 men, was marching towards the Modigliani of Naples.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
It was reported that the Emperor Napoleon had been freed upon by an insane man at Tolon, but the arm was arrested by a bystander.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth, is one of our oldest, worthiest and most highly esteemed citizens. He has the heart and sympathy of our entire community in the loss of his distinguished son. General Walker's third son, Mr. James Walker, has for a long time resided in the city of New Orleans, and has been a resident of the city of Mexico in that country.		NOTICE.—The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company will be held at New Market, on Thursday, the 1st day of October, 1860.
Gen. Walker was a native of this city and has a large number of relatives and personal friends. His father, Mr. James Walker, a Scotchman by birth

