

NEW YORK, W.
FRIDAY, NOV. 22, 1860.

Geo. T. Page, Editor and Proprietor.

Wood & Woods!

We desire those of our subscribers who intend to pay their subscription in wood, to bring it at once. We are in need of it.

The first page for editorial matter. This is reading, also, on the 5th page.

It is not ascertained positively whether Senator Tombs has resigned or not.

Gov. Grim, of S. C., is a member of the N. E. Church, immensely wealthy, and devoted to the interests of his church.

Bell's majority in the Richmond District is 1,429. Gorgin's was 569. Buchanan's is 1,426, and Flanders' 57.

Millard Fillmore voted for the straight Union ticket at the recent Presidential election.

Thirty-two Southern students have left Harvard College, and returned to their homes.

Hon. R. M. Nelson, Minister to Mexico, has resigned that position, and Col. John B. Weller has appointed his successor.

Columbia is called of as the name of the Southern Confederacy, should one be formed.

We received the first of our intelligent friend in Irish too late for this week's issue. It shall appear in our next.

The notes of the Monteello Bank, Bank of Fincastle, and Bank of Phillipi, have been thrown out by the Richmond Banks.

Edgar C. Rose, of Fredericksburg, and Miss Emma Sledd, of Richmond, were united in marriage on the 14th inst., by Rev. Mr. Willis.

Henceforth we are requested to pay the butchers will have market only twice a week, Wednesdays and Saturdays. Bear this in mind.

The Annual session of the Virginia Conference is now being held in Alexandria, Virginia. It commenced on the 22d—yesterday.

Tom Corwin, it is said, is negotiating for the purchase of the National Intelligencer, as the organ of Lincoln's administration, Mr. Seaton to remain in it.

Our young friends, the Hermans, at Blake's Shoe Store, will accept our thanks for interesting Northern papers. They have also on hand some late and entertaining periodicals.

The Douglas State Committee of Maryland has called a Convention of the National Union Democracy of Maryland, to be held in Baltimore on the 6th of December next.

Mayor Wood, New York, is to be married on the 23d of February, proximo, to Miss Billie, of that city. He settles $100,000 on her, as a part of the marriage contract. A rather dear wife.

The Independent Methodist Society of Sebon Chapel, Louisville, Ky., have gone in a body to the Episcopal Church, taking with them about $24,000 worth of property.

Neither New York, Indiana or Illinois has upon its statute book any law that obstructs the arrest of Fugitive Slaves. We published the statement last week as we found it in the Richmond Enquirer.

The Lindall House, St. Louis, is the largest Hotel in the world. Its cost will be $1,000,000, independent of furniture. It will accommodate between 1,200 and 2,000 guests. It has been leased by the Messrs. Leland Brothers, New York.

It is rumored that Gen. Houston is now maturing a plan, the object of which is to overthrow and take possession of the Mexican Republic and parcel it off into States, preparatory to joining in with a Southern Confederacy.

The Booksellers of Charleston have returned Harper's Magazine and Weekly and closed accounts with the firm. The Journal of Commerce thinks this unjust, as the Messrs. Harpers are conservative in their political opinions.

The records of Massachusetts legislation show that resolutions to the following effect have been adopted by her legislature—“That the annexation of Texas, ipso facto, a dissolution of the Union.” “That Texas, being annexed, Massachusetts is out of the Union.”

The handsome residence of Adam Link, Esq., two miles south of Mt. Sidney, on the Mediterranean road, with forty acres of ground attached, has been purchased by Geo. W. Crawford, Esq., for $7,000. The property adjoins the farm of Mr. Crawford, and he will hereafter make that his dwelling-place. Mr. Link, we understand, contemplates going South.

We deem it nothing more than an act of sheer justice to two of our contemporaries politically opposed to us—the Richmond Whig and the Alexandria Gazette—to say that they have furnished the most correct returns of the Virginia election that have been published. The people of the State, however, implicitly relied upon their figures that upon those of any other print in the State. Their party between the two sections. If they can be reconciled, let them adjust the terms, and a proper appreciation of the true dignity of journalism, and respect for the intelligence of the people.

The ladies, God bless them, ever ministering light and cheer, are now gathered around the graves of the State's saviors and martyrs, have had been mournful of the bereavements and vexations of the editor's call. Some have felt emancipated from the vanity of party warfare over our common past performed by a rich and beautiful boquette, a significant souvenir from a lovely and accomplished lady. And how the Convention went, and the speakers cannot be satisfactorily adjusted, the people of the South will clearly understand what they are to expect in the future.”

Should this fall—should Northern families like ours be Northern reason and patriotic—should they close their eyes

The Crisis—National Convention. That impulsive, mercurial sentiment that responds to sectional panics, regardless of consequences, seems to have sprung up again in the leading minds of the State. Thought and effort to the grave questions of which the present crisis is pregnant, may unfurling itself into the very jaws of destruction, and suggesting a scheme that must inevitably precipitate a revolution in our political system, and isolate the roll of nations in the world. Hardly had the lightning flashed through the country the intelligence of the revolutionary movements of S. Carolina, before the metropolitan Breckinridge press, backed by the Alexandria Gazette and Lynchburg Republican, buried their columns with clamorous appeals for a Southern Convention, apparently ignoring the fact that we are a part of the whole confederacy, as well North as South, and regardless of the important consideration that our cause of complaint is against the North, and not the South. It seems patent to us, that a just ambition to avert the calamity of disunion, to allay the nervous excitement incident to the action of a sectional President, and adjust the difficulties which rockless and fanatical men have thrust upon us, would have suggested the expediency of a National Convention to cure sectional diseases, rather than a sectional Convention to inflame sectional passions, brood over sectional wrongs, and estrange and embitter the feelings of the parties to the Federal compact. He is a careless and superficial thinker who sees in the election of Abraham Lincoln a verdict of the American people in favor of the doctrine of the platform upon which he was elected. It is true, that through the folly and divisions of the conservative element at the North, Mr. Lincoln received a majority of the electoral votes of all the States, and yet the feeling of the parties to the Federal compact, he brought to bear upon the idea, and they will, without division, discard, an unworthy the magnitude of the occasion, contracted and fanatical idea of a Southern Convention, until at least the more rational remedies for the ill we bear have been exhausted.

Our Position. First. We are in favor of a National Convention to consider the causes of grievance between the North and South. We desire to meet the North face to face, and to lay the burden of power less than one-third of the people to back him; with the Senate, House of Representatives, and Federal Judiciary, all the checks provided by the Constitution against him, and as utterly powerless to do him as he would have been had he remained at his quiet home in Springfield.

Viewing all the circumstances, therefore, attending the election of Mr. Lincoln, and calmly surveying the facts as they are presented to us, we can see no just reasons for a Southern Convention, until the more rational and statesmanlike policy of a National Convention has failed to accomplish the desired end. A Southern Convention would be utterly powerless to remove any one of the causes of complaint, and could easily nothing else than an imagined exacerbation of our wrongs, driving reasons from consideration, and substituting thereto inflamed passions. The great and crowning error of the Virginia delegation at Charlottetown—an error the resultant of which was the disruption of the Democratic party, the elevation of Lincoln, and the ousting of the Union—was the appointment of a delegate to meet similar delegates from the Southern States in consultation. That was the first step towards the division that afterwards took place. Had the conference been national—and there has been a honest desire to adjust the differences of opinion that existed, and one paramount sentiment, and that the desire of the Black Republican party, the Douglass State Committee of Maryland has called a Convention of the National Union Democracy of Maryland, to be held in Baltimore on the 6th of December next.

Major Wood, New York, is to be married on the 23d of February, proximo, to Miss Billie, of that city. He settles $100,000 on her, as a part of the marriage contract. A rather dear wife.

The Independent Methodist Society of Sebon Chapel, Louisville, Ky., have gone in a body to the Episcopal Church, taking with them about $24,000 worth of property.

Neither New York, Indiana or Illinois has upon its statute book any law that obstructs the arrest of Fugitive Slaves. We published the statement last week as we found it in the Richmond Enquirer.

The Lindall House, St. Louis, is the largest Hotel in the world. Its cost will be $1,000,000, independent of furniture. It will accommodate between 1,200 and 2,000 guests. It has been leased by the Messrs. Leland Brothers, New York.

It is rumored that Gen. Houston is now maturing a plan, the object of which is to overthrow and take possession of the Mexican Republic and parcel it off into States, preparatory to joining in with a Southern Confederacy.

The Booksellers of Charleston have returned Harper's Magazine and Weekly and closed accounts with the firm. The Journal of Commerce thinks this unjust, as the Messrs. Harpers are conservative in their political opinions.

The records of Massachusetts legislation show that resolutions to the following effect have been adopted by her legislature—“That the annexation of Texas, ipso facto, a dissolution of the Union.” “That Texas, being annexed, Massachusetts is out of the Union.”

The handsome residence of Adam Link, Esq., two miles south of Mt. Sidney, on the Mediterranean road, with forty acres of ground attached, has been purchased by Geo. W. Crawford, Esq., for $7,000. The property adjoins the farm of Mr. Crawford, and he will hereafter make that his dwelling-place. Mr. Link, we understand, contemplates going South.

We deem it nothing more than an act of sheer justice to two of our contemporaries politically opposed to us—the Richmond Whig and the Alexandria Gazette—to say that they have furnished the most correct returns of the Virginia election that have been published. The people of the State, however, implicitly relied upon their figures that upon those of any other print in the State. Their party between the two sections. If they can be reconciled, let them adjust the terms, and a proper appreciation of the true dignity of journalism, and respect for the intelligence of the people.

The ladies, God bless them, ever ministering light and cheer, are now gathered around the graves of the State's saviors and martyrs, have had been mournful of the bereavements and vexations of the editor's call. Some have felt emancipated from the vanity of party warfare over our common past performed by a rich and beautiful boquette, a significant souvenir from a lovely and accomplished lady. And how the Convention went, and the speakers cannot be satisfactorily adjusted, the people of the South will clearly understand what they are to expect in the future.”

Should this fall—should Northern families like ours be Northern reason and patriotic—should they close their eyes

to the fearful consequences, to them more especially, which may abide in the wake of division—then we are having discharged suddenly to our country—on the memory of the past and the honor of the State. Thought and effort to the grave questions of which the present crisis is pregnant, may unfurling itself into the very jaws of destruction, and suggesting a scheme that must inevitably precipitate a revolution in our political system, and isolate the roll of nations in the world. Hardly had the lightning flashed through the country the intelligence of the revolutionary movements of S. Carolina, before the metropolitan Breckinridge press, backed by the Alexandria Gazette and Lynchburg Republican, buried their columns with clamorous appeals for a Southern Convention, apparently ignoring the fact that we are a part of the whole confederacy, as well North as South, and regardless of the important consideration that our cause of complaint is against the North, and not the South. It seems patent to us, that a just ambition to avert the calamity of disunion, to allay the nervous excitement incident to the action of a sectional President, and adjust the difficulties which rockless and fanatical men have thrust upon us, would have suggested the expediency of a National Convention to cure sectional diseases, rather than a sectional Convention to inflame sectional passions, brood over sectional wrongs, and estrange and embitter the feelings of the parties to the Federal compact. He is a careless and superficial thinker who sees in the election of Abraham Lincoln a verdict of the American people in favor of the doctrine of the platform upon which he was elected. It is true, that through the folly and divisions of the conservative element at the North, Mr. Lincoln received a majority of the electoral votes of all the States, and yet the feeling of the parties to the Federal compact, he brought to bear upon the idea, and they will, without division, discard, an unworthy the magnitude of the occasion, contracted and fanatical idea of a Southern Convention, until at least the more rational remedies for the ill we bear have been exhausted.

Our Position. First. We are in favor of a National Convention to consider the causes of grievance between the North and South. We desire to meet the North face to face, and to lay the burden of power less than one-third of the people to back him; with the Senate, House of Representatives, and Federal Judiciary, all the checks provided by the Constitution against him, and as utterly powerless to do him as he would have been had he remained at his quiet home in Springfield.

Viewing all the circumstances, therefore, attending the election of Mr. Lincoln, and calmly surveying the facts as they are presented to us, we can see no just reasons for a Southern Convention, until the more rational and statesmanlike policy of a National Convention has failed to accomplish the desired end. A Southern Convention would be utterly powerless to remove any one of the causes of complaint, and could easily nothing else than an imagined exacerbation of our wrongs, driving reasons from consideration, and substituting thereto inflamed passions. The great and crowning error of the Virginia delegation at Charlottetown—an error the resultant of which was the disruption of the Democratic party, the elevation of Lincoln, and the ousting of the Union—was the appointment of a delegate to meet similar delegates from the Southern States in consultation. That was the first step towards the division that afterwards took place. Had the conference been national—and there has been a honest desire to adjust the differences of opinion that existed, and one paramount sentiment, and that the desire of the Black Republican party, the Douglass State Committee of Maryland has called a Convention of the National Union Democracy of Maryland, to be held in Baltimore on the 6th of December next.

Major Wood, New York, is to be married on the 23d of February, proximo, to Miss Billie, of that city. He settles $100,000 on her, as a part of the marriage contract. A rather dear wife.

The Independent Methodist Society of Sebon Chapel, Louisville, Ky., have gone in a body to the Episcopal Church, taking with them about $24,000 worth of property.

Neither New York, Indiana or Illinois has upon its statute book any law that obstructs the arrest of Fugitive Slaves. We published the statement last week as we found it in the Richmond Enquirer.

The Lindall House, St. Louis, is the largest Hotel in the world. Its cost will be $1,000,000, independent of furniture. It will accommodate between 1,200 and 2,000 guests. It has been leased by the Messrs. Leland Brothers, New York.

It is rumored that Gen. Houston is now maturing a plan, the object of which is to overthrow and take possession of the Mexican Republic and parcel it off into States, preparatory to joining in with a Southern Confederacy.

The Booksellers of Charleston have returned Harper's Magazine and Weekly and closed accounts with the firm. The Journal of Commerce thinks this unjust, as the Messrs. Harpers are conservative in their political opinions.

The records of Massachusetts legislation show that resolutions to the following effect have been adopted by her legislature—“That the annexation of Texas, ipso facto, a dissolution of the Union.” “That Texas, being annexed, Massachusetts is out of the Union.”

The handsome residence of Adam Link, Esq., two miles south of Mt. Sidney, on the Mediterranean road, with forty acres of ground attached, has been purchased by Geo. W. Crawford, Esq., for $7,000. The property adjoins the farm of Mr. Crawford, and he will hereafter make that his dwelling-place. Mr. Link, we understand, contemplates going South.

We deem it nothing more than an act of sheer justice to two of our contemporaries politically opposed to us—the Richmond Whig and the Alexandria Gazette—to say that they have furnished the most correct returns of the Virginia election that have been published. The people of the State, however, implicitly relied upon their figures that upon those of any other print in the State. Their party between the two sections. If they can be reconciled, let them adjust the terms, and a proper appreciation of the true dignity of journalism, and respect for the intelligence of the people.

The ladies, God bless them, ever ministering light and cheer, are now gathered around the graves of the State's saviors and martyrs, have had been mournful of the bereavements and vexations of the editor's call. Some have felt emancipated from the vanity of party warfare over our common past performed by a rich and beautiful boquette, a significant souvenir from a lovely and accomplished lady. And how the Convention went, and the speakers

cannot be satisfactorily adjusted, the people of the South will clearly understand what they are to expect in the future.”

Should this fall—should Northern families like ours be Northern reason and patriotic—should they close their eyes

to the fearful consequences, to them more especially, which may abide in the wake of division—then we are having discharged suddenly to our country—on the memory of the past and the honor of the State. Thought and effort to the grave questions of which the present crisis is pregnant, may unfurling itself into the very jaws of destruction, and suggesting a scheme that must inevitably precipitate a revolution in our political system, and isolate the roll of nations in the world. Hardly had the lightning flashed through the country the intelligence of the revolutionary movements of S. Carolina, before the metropolitan Breckinridge press, backed by the Alexandria Gazette and Lynchburg Republican, buried their columns with clamorous appeals for a Southern Convention, apparently ignoring the fact that we are a part of the whole confederacy, as well North as South, and regardless of the important consideration that our cause of complaint is against the North, and not the South. It seems patent to us, that a just ambition to avert the calamity of disunion, to allay the nervous excitement incident to the action of a sectional President, and adjust the difficulties which rockless and fanatical men have thrust upon us, would have suggested the expediency of a National Convention to cure sectional diseases, rather than a sectional Convention to inflame sectional passions, brood over sectional wrongs, and estrange and embitter the feelings of the parties to the Federal compact. He is a careless and superficial thinker who sees in the election of Abraham Lincoln a verdict of the American people in favor of the doctrine of the platform upon which he was elected. It is true, that through the folly and divisions of the conservative element at the North, Mr. Lincoln received a majority of the electoral votes of all the States, and yet the feeling of the parties to the Federal compact, he brought to bear upon the idea, and they will, without division, discard, an unworthy the magnitude of the occasion, contracted and fanatical idea of a Southern Convention, until at least the more rational remedies for the ill we bear have been exhausted.

Now if this picture is not enough to "harrow our young feelings," find the two illustrations into tears, then there is nothing in the world to compare with the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of

the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by the side of the "milk of babes" being dried up because South Carolina, codes, and laws are nullified by America County Union Meeting.

At a large and enthusiastic meeting of a portion of the people of America, a resolution of secession was passed, and numerous signatures were given. Henry L. Stuart was called to the Chair, and John L. Person appointed Secretary.

Hugh W. Shufay, Esq., moved the adoption of the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That a committee be appointed by the Chair, consisting of thirteen members, who shall consider and report to the people of America on the 4th of November, the measures and possibilities may deem expedient for the people of Augusta to consider and adopt.

2. That the Chairman of this meeting be the Chairman of said Committee.

3. That the people of Augusta be requested to assemble on the day above named, to consider and adopt the Report of the said Committee.

The question as to the proper time for holding the adjourned meeting gave rise to considerable discussion, in which the following gentlemen participated: G. M. Cochran, J. D. Baldwin, Col. J. Taylor, Capt.

J. D. Imboden, Jos. A. Waddell, John L. Peyton, Gen. Keaton, Harper, Hon. Alex H. Stuart, T. J. Mitchell and John B. Watts. The speakers did not confine themselves to the question immediately before the meeting, but entered, to some extent, into a discussion of the important questions now agitating the country, and expressed themselves, in strong terms, in favor of our glorious Union.

On motion, the meeting adjourned, to meet again on Monday, the 26th of this month (November).

The Chairman of the meeting appointed the following Committee of thirteen as constituted by the first resolution of Mr. Shufay:

Hugh W. Shufay, George Taylor, John D. Baldwin, John L. Peyton, Keaton, Harper, John D. Imboden, George M. Cochran, St. Joseph A. Waddell, John Martin, Hunt, Crawford, Gerard P. Stuart and Robert Guy.

ALEX. H. H. STUART, CHA.
John L. Peyton, Secy.

Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Trumbull were recently interviewed at Springfield, Ill., Mr.

L. excused himself from speaking at length. He remarked that at all times he remembered that all American citizens are brothers of a common country, and should always together in the bonds of fraternal feeling." Mr. Trumbull said that "Mr. Lincoln, although the candidate of the republican party, as chief magistrate will neither belong to me or any other party when inaugurated."

He further said that the Republican party had no more right to interfere with slavery in a state than it had to interfere with serfdom in Russia."

Our friend Mr. George Hiner, one of our advance paving sub-sabers at Dan Hill, in Pendleton, was not aware that a Presidential election had taken place. This gives to show how much the people fear the war, bloodshed, &c., that is predicted daily to them through the press. If dissolution should come, we will join our friend of the Register and emigrate to the State of Pendleton, where we can sit down under our own vine and fig-tree, home daring to molest or make us afraid.

N. W. ADVERTISING.

A Beautiful Paper Farm

W. D. TOTTY was executed in Richmond, Va., on Friday last, the 16th inst., for the murder of his sister-in-law, Miss Catherine J. Thom, in July last. The deed was perpetrated in a fit of jealousy, because of the refusal of Miss Thom to stop with him.

He shot her while sitting at the breakfast-table. He was under the influence of liquor. Totty was a young man of fine appearance. He died justifying his sentence, and expressing a confident belief in the pardon of his sins.

The Richmond Examiner says: "We understand that several large manufacturing establishments in this City have discharged the greater portion of their workmen, and that others may have occasion to do so in view of the equally times ahead." This is only the beginning of the end. How fearful the responsibility that rests upon those who have brought upon our country the distress that now so ominously hangs over one people!

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says, that a disruption of the Cabinet is almost certain before the first of December. Mr. Buchanan takes the position in his message that peaceable secession is a "fallacy which he does not recognize, and must tell to the full extent of his power. In this view he is sustained by Cass, Tracy, Black and Holt. While Floyd, Cobb and Thompson take the opposite position—the right of peaceful secession will be required, and never more than four months after it will be done, at a month with intermission."

The Post-Office was closed at the Post-Office in Philippi, Barbour co., recently. The post master communicated the fact to two justices of the peace, who ordered the books or pamphlets to be burned. Such a foolish policy gives aliment to the cause of the Free-Soil Republicans in Virginia.

The stockholders of the Central Railroad met yesterday. We received a copy of the annual report of the President and Directors, but before we examined it, some one either destroyed or took it away. We shall do our best to get hold of another copy as soon as possible.

Gov. Leitch has commissioned Stribling Trout, son of N. K. Trout, Esq., captain of Company B, 100th Regiment, Va. Militia. Mr. Trout is probably the youngest officer ever commissioned to the State, not being yet seventeen years of age.

It is stated that Messrs. Stephens, Hunter, Poole, Rivers, Bell and others will in a few days issue a manifesto, urging upon the Southern States not to secede, and setting forth the fact of the impossibility of any detrimental legislation to the South being had during Lincoln's administration.

The tone and temper of the Southern people are evidently becoming more moderate. The recent great speech of Alex. H. Stephens seems to have had a decidedly conservative effect. The second sober thought is working.

The currency panic in New York on the 1st was equal to that of 1837. All notes of Banks south of Washington were at 20 and 25 per cent discount.

The official vote of Illinois is as follows: 4,245, Brookings 2,272. The returns of the vote since 1856 is 105,181.

The Yearly Budget.
The Richmond Whig of yesterday says: "Though we are again unable to present the returns from all the counties in this State, we may safely announce that the Bell and Everett Electors have a plurality of about two hundred, and are therefore elected. In 147 counties, officially heard from, the vote stands—Bell, 14,059, Breckinridge, 7,305, and Douglas 16,221.

One of the largest meetings ever assembled in Atlanta, Georgia, opened there on Friday last. Some of the best men in the State participated in the proceedings, and possibilities may deem expedient for the people of Augusta to consider and adopt.

2. That the Chairman of this meeting be the Chairman of said Committee.

3. That the people of Augusta be requested to assemble on the day above named, to consider and adopt the Report of the said Committee.

The question as to the proper time for holding the adjourned meeting gave rise to considerable discussion, in which the following gentlemen participated: G. M. Cochran,

J. D. Baldwin, Col. J. Taylor, Capt.

J. D. Imboden, Jos. A. Waddell, John L. Peyton, Gen. Keaton, Harper, Hon. Alex H. Stuart, T. J. Mitchell and John B. Watts.

The speakers did not confine themselves to the question immediately before the meeting, but entered, to some extent, into a discussion of the important questions now agitating the country, and expressed themselves, in strong words, in favor of our glorious Union.

A petition is now being circulated in Boston and signed by many of the leading influential Republicans, calling for a repeal of the Fugitive Slave Bill of Massachusetts.

The medicine is working. Time will tell everything right.

Nine of the persons, including the justice who issued the warrant, engaged in the rescue of the fugitive slave at Chicago, last week, have been indicted for a violation of the Fugitive Slave law.

Gov. McCallum of Ky., has written a long letter to the editor of the Frankfort Citizen, on the present condition of the Commonwealth. He takes ground against secession on account of imminent election.

The Presidential electors will meet on the first Wednesday in December, following the Presidential election, to vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, which will be the 5th.

The Intelligence from California says:

Lincoln has carried the State by 3,000 majority over Lincoln. In Oregon the majority over Lincoln, and should roll together in the bonds of fraternal feeling." Mr. Trumbull said that "Mr. Lincoln, although the candidate of the republican party, as chief magistrate will neither belong to me or any other party when inaugurated."

He further said that the Republican party had no more right to interfere with slavery in a state than it had to interfere with serfdom in Russia."

Advices from Vera Cruz state that Miramón had resigned the Presidency of Mexico, and had been succeeded by Gen. Robles.

It turns out that the terrible insurrections, blood, poison and fire in Texas are noting more nor less than a malignant beast.

Breckinridge falls short 2,500 of a majority in Georgia.

N. W. ADVERTISING.

A Beautiful Paper Farm

W. D. TOTTY was executed in Richmond, Va., on Friday last, the 16th inst., for the murder of his sister-in-law, Miss Catherine J. Thom, in July last. The deed was perpetrated in a fit of jealousy, because of the refusal of Miss Thom to stop with him.

He shot her while sitting at the breakfast-table. He was under the influence of liquor. Totty was a young man of fine appearance. He died justifying his sentence, and expressing a confident belief in the pardon of his sins.

The Richmond Examiner says: "We understand that several large manufacturing establishments in this City have discharged the greater portion of their workmen, and that others may have occasion to do so in view of the equally times ahead."

This is only the beginning of the end. How fearful the responsibility that rests upon those who have brought upon our country the distress that now so ominously hangs over one people!

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says, that a disruption of the Cabinet is almost certain before the first of December. Mr. Buchanan takes the position in his message that peaceable secession is a "fallacy which he does not recognize, and must tell to the full extent of his power. In this view he is sustained by Cass, Tracy, Black and Holt. While Floyd, Cobb and Thompson take the opposite position—the right of peaceful secession will be required, and never more than four months after it will be done, at a month with intermission."

The Post-Office was closed at the Post-Office in Philippi, Barbour co., recently. The post master communicated the fact to two justices of the peace, who ordered the books or pamphlets to be burned. Such a foolish policy gives aliment to the cause of the Free-Soil Republicans in Virginia.

The stockholders of the Central Railroad met yesterday. We received a copy of the annual report of the President and Directors, but before we examined it, some one either destroyed or took it away. We shall do our best to get hold of another copy as soon as possible.

Gov. Leitch has commissioned Stribling Trout, son of N. K. Trout, Esq., captain of Company B, 100th Regiment, Va. Militia. Mr. Trout is probably the youngest officer ever commissioned to the State, not being yet seventeen years of age.

It is stated that Messrs. Stephens, Hunter, Poole, Rivers, Bell and others will in a few days issue a manifesto, urging upon the Southern States not to secede, and setting forth the fact of the impossibility of any detrimental legislation to the South being had during Lincoln's administration.

The tone and temper of the Southern people are evidently becoming more moderate. The recent great speech of Alex. H. Stephens seems to have had a decidedly conservative effect. The second sober thought is working.

The currency panic in New York on the 1st was equal to that of 1837. All notes of Banks south of Washington were at 20 and 25 per cent discount.

The official vote of Illinois is as follows: 4,245, Brookings 2,272. The returns of the vote since 1856 is 105,181.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Great Premium Auctioneers, Irvings Life of Washington.
SELECT BAPTISTES FOR 1861.
JOHN C. PEARSON, Esq., the Founder of UNIVERSITY LIFE OF WASHINGTON.

There is a growing tendency to look up to the past, and to value it highly;

and the price of this great National Work, to One Million Dollars of Premiums, in India, Australia, & elsewhere, is rapidly increasing.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and

will be highly prized.

It is a valuable book, and will be highly

Schmidt's Poetry

MISCELLANEOUS.

Prof. L. MILLER'S HAIR INVIGORATOR. An EFFECTIONATE AND ECONOMICAL COMPOUND.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR to its original color, without drying, and preserving the Hair from turning gray.

FOR PREVENTING BALDNESS, and curing what there is the least particle of vitality or rest, capillary action, &c.

FOR REMOVING HUMPS AND DANDRUFF, and all cutaneous affection of the Head.

FOR BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR, imparting to it a smooth, glossy, and brilliant polish, making it soft and silky in its texture, and causing it to curl.

The hair becomes a witch, and it plays the very diabolical with that, dimly and sick.

The gallants were delicious. When her feet were made to roll—

I saw her but a moment,

Yet methinks I see her still.

The sweetest round the corner,

And dazzling out behind.

Her crimson and calico.

We're camping in the wild;

To have kept him in position.

Would have ruined twice her skill—

I saw her but a moment,

Yet methinks I see her still.

MEMORIAL Speeches.—We desire to inform the following extraordinarily sublime, elegant, and elegant orations:

The first is said to have been delivered before a Court of justice in Pennsylvania:

"You know we live upon the side of a seat of Justice, like the Asiatic rock of Gibraltar, while the eternal streams of justice, like the cadaverous clouds of the valley, flow漫ander at your extended feet."

This next is by a celebrated lawyer of N. Jersey:

"Your honors, I fancy, do not sit there like marble statues, to be wafted about by every idle breeze."

Next, the soul-stirring opening of a Writers' oration:

"The important crisis which were about to have arrived, have arrived."

Least, but not least, one that locates itself:

"The Coast will please to observe that the gentlemen from the East has given them a very learned speech. He has roamed with old Romulus, walked with old Socrates, rapped with Euripides, and censored with Citharides! but what—your honor—what does he know about the law of Old Arkansaw?"

PROMISE ELEPHANTS.—Old Rowe keeps a hotel in the northern part of the State of New York, which he boasted, was the best in "those parts" where, as he used to say, you can get anything that was ever made to eat.

One day in comes a Yankee, sees his horse around to the stable, and stepping up to the bar, asked Old Rowe what could possibly for dinner. "Anything, sir," says old Howe, "anything, from a pickled elephant to a parrot's bird's tongue." "Wa! wa!" says the Yankee, eyeing old Rowe. "I guess I'll take a piece of pickled elephant." Out bursted Rowe into the dining-room, leaving our Yankee non-plussed at his gravity. Presently he comes back again. "Well, sir, we've got some gas on our side right now in the house, but you'll have to take a whole case, cause we never eat 'em." The Yankee thought he would have some codfish and potatoes.

NATURAL PHENOMENA.—A noise was heard on deck, the dog-whip sprung from his caboose, seized the gig-whip and laying over the dead-eyes of the boy, made him shun up the bow-sprit, catch hold of the sky-scrapers, which he used so freely on the keel, so that he rubbed on the shoe of the anchor, which was caught by the cat-harpers, who commenced to spanker with the boom till she burst through the stays, cutting the topmast-tops, grabbed the money-tail, which knocked a Jew's eye out of the Turk's head, caught the ship round the waist with one hand, boxed the compass with the others till the cook cried, and the captain applied the fuses of the forecastle to the infested eye of the astonished needle.

A man of a singular character died in New Orleans last week. He was seventy-two years old, and of late years had for his only companion a number of dogs.

The Picayune says that on the discovery of his death by the neighbors, a number entered his dwelling and found the dead body surrounded by a score and a half of grown up dogs and puppies, some looking affectionately at his face and hands, and others howling mournfully. Two of the puppies were found dead near his body, perhaps out of sympathy for their poor, good old master.

Lori Darbin, formerly of Duxonport, Iowa, was hung at Pike's Peak a short time ago by the vigilance committee for stealing mules. When he learnt that the committee was after him, he got some of his comrades to lay him out after the manner of a corpse—but figuring stark dead. One of the big boys was left to watch at a convenient place to see whether it was a ruse or not, and soon the corpse took to itselfs. He was then arrested and hanged.

Florida, it seems, has determined to go with South Carolina, in the event of Secession.

Love can excuse anything except meanness, but meanness kills love and cripples true natural affection.

Happiness must arise from our own temper and actions, and not immediately from any external condition.

The greatest pleasure in the world is to do a good action by stealth and have it found out by accident.

An Irish lover remarked that it is a great pleasure to be alone, especially when your sweetheart is wid ye."

Mr. Tom Brock has won £2,000 in England, a sum between £1,000 and £2,000.

Empire, and a horse named Tom Bowline.

Every sorrow we meet is a billon on this world's troubleme sea, which we must cross to bear us nigher home.

The last notice we take of the wakings, woes and injuries that are done us, the more we grieve the quiet of our minds.

A discontented husband says he always likes to repeat his wife's sayings, such as in the hope that she may speedily become one in Heaven.

A bachelor being asked if he had ever seen a man commit suicide, replied: "No, not exactly suicide, but I saw a man get married."

"Strong won't lie," is an old and honest saying, but we see a remarkable woman's figure now-a-days and she is a woman for a thousand persons, and she will be found preferable to the rest of us."

MISS LUCILLE & JARRY.

RICHMOND, VIRGINIA.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS

FOR THE SALE OF HAY AND ALL KINDS OF COUN-

TRY PRODUCE.

REFFER TO Messrs. Cresswell & Co., and Edmond, Duxonport, I.O., Oct. 12, 1860.—3m.

LINIE CUT CHEWING TOBACCO.

We have a large quantity of fine Linie Cut Chewing Tobacco, including Gordon & Son's Plantation, Ayrton's, &c. &c. A full account of the kind of which is the best of the kind in the country.

H. J. OLNEY.

Agents, 38 Church-street, New York.

Sept. 25, 1860.—J. Y. & Co.

W. M. DUGGERS,

COACH AND LIGHT CARRIAGE

BUILDER,

1009 and 1010 CHEMUT-STREET,

PHILADELPHIA.

CARRIAGES OF EVERY DESCRIPTION BUILT TO

Order, and for Sale, including the

Subscribers Celebrated

LIGHT DRIVING WAGONS,

WITH HORSES IMMEDIATELY PREPARED.

CARRIAGES CAREFULLY BUILT AND SHIPPED.

Sept. 31, 1860.—3m.

Distiller Wanted.

THE undersigned wants to employ a young man of sober, industrious habits, and well educated, in the charge of a Distiller.

DAVIDSON, TURNER & CO., RICHMOND, VIRGINIA.

CORN-SHELLING AND BUTTING BOXES

FOR SALE BY WOODS & GILKESEN.

Stanton, Oct. 12, 1860.

WOODS & GILKESEN.

Stanton, Nov. 2, 1860.

PIPER & FUNHOUSES.

St. Louis, Oct. 12, 1860.

100 PINEWOODS.

St. Louis, Oct. 12, 1860.

PIPER & FUNHOUSES.

St. Louis, Oct. 12, 1860.

75 KNOX OLD DOMINION NAILS.

Taylor & Moore.

Stanton, Oct. 12, 1860.

PIPER & FUNHOUSES.

St. Louis, Oct. 12, 1860.

100 PINEWOODS.

St. Louis, Oct. 12, 1860.

PIPER & FUNHOUSES.

St. Louis, Oct. 12, 1860.