

Nothing of interest has occurred on our lines either in front of Richmond or Petersburg for some days past.

The following official telegram gives the latest intelligence from Mississippi.

Charleston, January 2, 1865. The Federal raiders are reported to have returned from the Mobile and Ohio railroad, going westward.

Hardsville is a Station on the Charleston and Savannah Railroad, twenty miles from the latter.

With this our first issue in the year 1865, we return our thanks to our friends and patrons for their kind remembrance of us.

Through our people have been harassed at times during the past year, yet we rejoice in an overbearing enemy, yet we have not been no greater.

During the last twelve months, notwithstanding the numbers brought against us and the eventual changes of war, the gain has been considerable.

The Right Spirit. Gov. Vance was inaugurated Governor of North Carolina a few days ago.

There is one great danger against which I earnestly pray our people to be warned.

The new year brings with it new duties. Let each and all of us resolve to do our whole duty, and never, for one moment, give way to sloth.

The dinner proposed to be given to the army of Gen. Early on New Year's day was postponed until tomorrow to afford an opportunity to contribute.

By an oversight, the communication in reference to Gen. Barry's army, to which we called the attention of our readers in our last issue failed to be inserted.

A Transient in Paris. The Chateau Comtal, of the Rhine, has the following description.

General Barry. This distinguished officer has no superior in the troops as to ability and sagacity.
