The Estable Contraversy.

The societoversy in wegerd to Mr. Lietcher's position so the shewey question, has nearly subsided. All editorial supposition to him seems to have been withdrawn, and, so far as the press to sensore the results in state of the field, with the pressure of a trimphant election to the of-fice of Governor. With the exception of a test stary correspondents of the Richmond Enquirer—one of whom declares emphasically that Mr. Letcher, the recently 1817, was an aboliton prognandist—avery body appears to be satisfied, and we hear so word of censors or complete. The Enquirer itself now mays:
