BISHOP GLOSSBRENNER'S REPLY.

MR. J. M. McCon:—Sin:
When I obtained the paper on Wednesday orning last, containing what you called "A Re ply to Bishop Glossbreuner," I found nothing calculated to frighten me but its length. You commence by noticing what you call my defence for supporting the resolution of our last General Conference, favoring the equality of men before the law, and extending to all the right of suffrage. In a former article I stated what I understood to be the sense of said resolution, and you have no more right to infer that I am in favor of amalga-mation and missegenation than you have that Mr. Reagan is; for the language of Mr. Reagan is fully as strong as the resolution which appears to give you so much annovance. You ask me if eagan, or any other good Southern man, avow-ig this doctoine before the surrender of Gen. Lee's army? I answer by asking you, did you ever hear of my voting for a resolution similar to the one you so much complain of, before the ountry? The fact that the colored race is free the law as is the white man. If they are not, wicked and selfish men will take advantage of them; and they will have no redress. Advantage them; and they will have no redress. Advantage but one sermon from a minister in our Church will not only be taken of them by some who were and that was a number of years ago. The consequence of all concerned to carry out the doctine of that "obnoxious resolution." It is clearly evident, sir, that in all this controversy you have been influenced by a horitlity to the U. B. Church. When your friend, Judge Watson, shows the importance of preparing the colored race for the important civil rights which the Legislature will be under the absolute necessity of giving him, you only say he is "accepting the situation." The President appointed th fouffrage, you at once excuse him by saying he s governed by "policy and expediency" that he may get his pardon. But when Glossbrenner advises the same thing, your indignation is stirred, and you can infer nothing but amalgamention and miscegenation. You refer with apparent pleasure and satisfaction to your work of burning the Telegope. You say it was an incendary publi-cation. It is atrange indeed, that no other mag-latrate in the Valley, but yourself, could see that it was a paper of that character. The paper that you caused to burned as an incendiary document, was given to one of the Circuit Judges in the Valley, who, after examining it, handed it back with instruction that it be given out by the Poet Master. You, sir, must have the credit of burn satching the U. B. Church. watening the U. S. Cauren.

That day, sir, is past—the inquisitorial free no longer consume that papers so true to the rights of men. Again, I would call your attention to a communication in the Richmond Whig, over the signiture of "Augusta." That article was said to the production of J. M. McCue, and who ca to the production of J. M. Siccue, and who can doubt it after reading your artists in the "Spec fator." In that article you showed what feeling you had for myself and the Church of the U. To pray is a solemn act of worship, and I feel that I am responsible to God alone for the way and manner in which this duty is per-formed. With the light I had I could not see that it would be for the glory of God, for the good of His Church, or for the happiness and prosperity of the people that the Confederacy should be es-tablished, and therefore could be a tablished, and therefore could not pray for its setablishment: yet I fall that I was important short sighted, consequently that it was best to pray that God would defend the right and over pray that God would defend the right and over rule all our national troubles for his glory and the good of all men in all conditions of society. And that he would make the wrath of men to praise bim, and the remainder of that wrath retrain. I also felt that I had a heart to sa thy will be done."

I deny, sir, most emphatically that the teach gs of myself or brothren "nullified the acts of Congress, trampled on the rights of the South, brought on the war, drave out the Southern States, murdered a million of her people and laid waste to the country." From the festimony of ome of the leading spirits of the South, it is evi-ent that for many years the movement had been contemplated to form a Southern Confederacy will give a few references. Mr. Inglis: "The most of us have had this matter under considerahave been engaged in this movement ever since I entered into political life." Mr. Rhett: "The secession of South Carolina is not an event of a day. It is not anything produced by Mr. Lincoln's election, or by the non-execution of the fugitive slave law. It has been a matter which has been gathering bead for the last thirty years."
If it were true that the teachings of myself and brethren was doing all this mischief, it is very strange that you never discovered it until recent all, Major, your testimony could hardly be taken

The Dispatch says "its effect would be to divert from Richmond much of the weald be to divert from Richmond much of the trade and triffic which our people have for years been led to expect from Bouthwest Va., and the Vailey. This simply means that Balti-more would thus afterd a marks so much better more would thus shore a market so much better than Richmond, that the people of Squthwest Va., and the Valley would trade with Battimore use it would be their private interest to do so. Just so the "Merchante of Richmond" are so. Just so the "merunante or measured" are begged to consider their private interest and re-sist this opportunity for the Valley producers to seek better prices than Richmond merchants

The Legislature is invoked to "consider" the matter. We trust it will do so for the sake of the interests of the great producing portion of e people which it equally represents with that the "Commission Merchants"—a class useful of the "Comm saion merchants"—a sees queful anough, perhaps, but still which lives upon the profits arising from this very want of facilities which requires a "middle-man" between pro-Ancer and consumer.

we admit the propriety of giving the profes-wes to our own State business men, but claim that the 'escapprocity' should not require our State producers to make sacrifices for the sake State producers to mane services of these very producers—equally our own State citizens.— Just thirty years ago, Baltimore proposed to build a railroad throughout the Valley, from Harper's Ferry to the Tennessee line, and with a branch from Stannton to the Ohio River, and a brace from Sassaud to the build it, but ac-net only not tax the people to build it, but ac-tually offered to pay a bonus forever into the State Treasury for the privilege. But the Eich-State Freatury for the private page, defeated it by appeals to "build up your own cities"—and by promises that the Valley should have a better market at Eichmond and equal facilities for getling there is a short time. A whole generation ed away and the better or even an equa is not yet offered to counteract the is greater expense of getting to Baltimore. Mean-is nevertheless a Pandemonium of me our producing community has been heavito build roads, and all the while borne upon their produce consisting in the difget and time required to reach the ASEL TOP Goulers. This fact alone has discour aged the usands of our people, and sent them off to seek in mere favored lands the just reward production there might be some excuse for con-trolling the disposition of its products to build up particular cities. But when the capacity of production has been searcely tested, sound pol-tor would seek to encourage the producer to his atmost, and expect thus eventually, and more seriely, to build up cities in which the surplus tion seeks its market.

In that very western country to which many emers have in this last thirty years be driven, the freest competition in choice of markets has been granted, and, in conseq slong these competing railroads the "villages" of this thus developed region now exceed Eich-mend in wealth and population.

The cost, and thus tax, upon the producer of gatting his produce to market by a railroad is lacrased by each additional mite of railroadsharge being by the mile. Now a railroad from Staunton, for instance, to Baltimore, would be something over 200 miles long, while to Rich mond, by a short track direct from Obar-lottesville, would be little over 100 miles, a difes of 100 per cent. If Richmond fears som ference of 100 per cmt. If Richmond fears com- question. Set if France should happen to Bnow polition with Beltimore under this great difference, for the Angusta trade, it indicates a beary question, the Lt. The Richmond Dispatch illustrating the shortsignified policy of the "Richmond Merchanis" is virtuously indignant at the "estartiling proposition" of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to Mayand, Patterson, Fowier, N. G. Taylor, and Stokes, should be debarred from their seats. Let it be remembered that Patterson is the son-in-law of President Johnson, and that will account for the southing and patronizing assurance of the Chronicle that "there is a good time soming."

State Agricultural Society of Virginia.

The proceedings of the Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society of Virginia, says the Richmond Whip, furnish theylying assu-rance that this valuable society has survived the war and is animated by its pristine spirit and earnestness. The financial condition of the society is infinitely better than the most sanguine sould have hoped. This is due to the wise and prudent management of Charles B. Williams, Esq., its able and faithful Secretary and Treasurer.—
The permanent fund of the society in $59,250, which is invested in Virginia registered, old is sue, bonds which are now about forty cents on the dollar, and which, as our finances impreve, will coller, and wille, and will, no doubt, ultimately, reach a par value. This is a permanent fund, which, under the constitution, cannot be expen-ded, and all that is to be done with it is to leave it to grow. The interest only can be expended, and will be available within a year or eighteen months.

The Executive Committee appointed a commit tee "to take into consideration the propriety of holding a fair for 1856, in Richmond.

It must be confessed that, judging Tennes by its present rulers, Greeley is not far wrong in pronouncing her as unfit for "self-government as Dahomey," for the one is governed by negroes and the other by a "reverend blackguard." But we submit if both the one and the other are not the legitimate results of the Tribune's radical doc trines of negro equality ?

Prance, Mexico and United States.

From the position of Gen. Grant, his views are considered of importance. The Rainigh Standard, Holden's paper, says that Gen. Grant, while in Raleigh, N. C., speke of the Mexican question, and said "that France did not sak our we should not consult that power in re-estab-lishing the Republic of Mexico." He further bolds that it is simply a question between a Gazeral, to accord to 'that gover section of our arms. He thinks France has no right to fight as of this question, it being sim ply a question between Maximillian and out

So far as relate to the President's action in the president, there is no serious obstacle left to a speedy reconstruction. There are two things only that can be converted into serious kindrances, and both of these degend upon the action of Congress, out upon that of the Executive. We mean the establishment of negro franchise as a condition precedent to restoration, and the institution upon the test cath of 1862 as a size yes ass of admission into any sent of the Senate or the House of Representatives.

into any seat of the Sonate or the House of Representatives.

In regard to negro suffrage, the Precident has stated in his message that "it is not competent for the General Government to extend the elective franchise in the several States." His objection to any such requirement from the South rests on Constitutional grounds. There is a class of extremists who centend that the Precident can obtain suffrage for the freedmen through the war power. It is an absurf pretended. A war power has no existence but in the necessity of prosecuting the war effectually and securing its ends.—The war has now closed. All war powers have esseed, save those indispensable to the transition from the military government of the war to the normal civil condition of the late theater of the rebellion.

The only power which Congress has upon this matter of assuring freedmen suffrage is the power of proposing an amendment to the constitution to his each. We donkt whether there is a member in either branch, visionary enough to imagine it to be possible to obtain the ratification of any seven amendment by there fourthe of the States. Not ease of the late slave States would ratify it of their own accord, nor would one-quarter of the other States, for the simple reason that more than three-fourths of them axishes colored men than three-fourths of them axishes colored men than the other States to compel the from their own barrot course and street or com strongly unjust for such States to com States to an electoral system they themsel unwilling to adopt.

Almost contemporaneously, Mr. Wede, in the Senate, and Mr. Schencks, in the Hence, offered the following resolutions, which were reterred to following resolutions, which were reterred to following resolutions, which were reterred to the Committoe on Freeign Affairs:

Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled:

1. These we contemplate the present condition of affairs in the Republic of Mexice with the meet profound solisations.

2. That the attempt to subject onfor thee Republican Covernments of this continent by a foreign power, and to establish on its retus a monarchy sustained selectly by Kurepean bayenets is opposed to the declared policy of the United States Government, offensive to our people, and contrary to the spirit of our institutions.

3. That the President of the United States be requested to take such steps concerning this grave matter as, will indicate the recognized policy and protest the honer and interests of our dovernment.

LOGUIRE AFTER THE DOLLARS.—Mr. Blains, of Mains, has introduced a bill to reimburse the loyal States for advances made and debts contracted in support of the sur. This looks like giving "Uncie San" very little time to breaths before onling upon him to "fork ever." Baldeis, as several of our Congressens are shaling their fasts as Lees in Napoleon and Maximilian, and giving them "notice to quit," would it not be well to wait a little before we empty the national exchanges to pay off the pations Statest Ferhaps they may be called upon for new larles before Congress adjourns.— Va. DIED.

In Dauville, on the 18th day of November, of Typhoid Fever, Susan E., only child of Mrs. M. M. and of the late J. G. Potter, in the 18th year of her age. Few young persons have died in this community for whom, during nickness there was a more general sympathy, and whose deeth was more universally regreated. Energiege the her seasons or, peleases compenies, ahe was much esteemed and greatly heloved at the time of her death tale had been, for more than a year, the organist at the church of the kipipany, in Dauville, Va. She has gone, and has itsuffit the young a solemn lesson on the chortness and uncertainty of lite. May her companions take warring and make full preparation for the second coming of Otrist.

How short the race our friend has run, Cut down in all her bloom; Cut down in all her bloom; Her course but yesterday begun Now finished in the tomb. Hence, joyous youth, hence, learn how 'I by years may end 'beir light. Log, logg before life's brittant noon May come death's gloomy night.

At the residence of her father, Mr. Wm. B. Hawpe, ear Greenville, Augusta county, Va., on Friday 8th 1 Dec. 1845, Miss SALLIE ANN HAWPE, aged about is years.

"Death loves a shining mark." This truth was exand fed in the decesse of our young friend. Beau. "Death loves a shining mark." This truth was examplised in the decease of our young friend. Beautiful in person, attractive in manners, the object upno whom was livished the love of parents and friends, here was much to bind her to earth. But "whom the tiods love die early." The deadily shaft was lunchnd; the ties of earthly affection were broken; the grave received its pray.

Her death was called and peaceful. Having submistion that was autracted from death, and when the ned of life's pilgrimage drew near, she "had a desire to depart and bow with Christ, which is fare better."

Foward the close of her illness, abe raised her hands and said:

ed:
"Filled with delight, my raptured soul.
Would here to longer stay."

"guisd with delight, my raptured soul Would here us longer stay."

"Thy will be done." We commit her dust to its kindred dust, and hopfully look forward to the resurrection of the last day.

May the grace of the gospel and the comfort of the Holy Ghost or furnished to the bleeding hearts of ler sacriving friends.

AMICUS.

Greenville, Va., Dec. 12th, 1855.

To Edmanare.

In Memory of Miss S. A. H.

Parewell, dear ballie, fare thee well.
That thou art gone, is true;
Though, is the chiming courte you dwell.
We've wept—attl! weep for you.
The angels there, with deep-losed harps,
Beat from the beaven, young,
And shoulded, as she empred there;
"Behold! as he comes,"

She same to folk the blood-washed band,
From doubt, and pain, and woe;
Site came to ahare these beaventy courts,
Where notrow is no more.
Here not a cloud shall shade her brow,
Her eyes ne'er shed a tear;
No anxiona doubts can pain her now,
Me sorrowing hearte are here.

She came to meet long severed once—
All are united now.
Blee came with wreathe of gladness twined
Around her beaning brow.
Blee came, with raptareas seengs of joy.
She came, with gladness home,
White angels tues there harps now,
And about: "she comes, she comes."

Above its place of rest: No drum's funereal roll— Nor trailing sables draps the bier That frees a deantless soul!

It ilred with Lee, and decked his brow From Fate's empyreal Palm: It sleeps the sleep of Jackson now— As spotless and as calm.

It was outnumbered - not outdone And they shall shuddering telt, Who struck the blow, its latest gan Plashed ruin as it fell.

Bleep, shrouded Ensign! - not the breeze With death, series the beaving sees Of fery Trafalgar;

Not Arthur's kuights, amid the gloon Their kaightly deeds have starred; Nor Gallie Henry's matchless plums, Nor peerless-born Bayard!—

Not all that antique fables feign, And Orient dreams disgorge; Nor yet the Bilver Cross of Spain, And Lion of St. George,

Can bid thee pale i Frond amblem, still, Thy crimson glory shines Beyond the lengthened shades that fill Their proudest kingly lines.

Table of interest -- The dinner table

When a young lady is dull and stupid on make her sparkle.

A W. stern editor must be in a bad fix. Hav-ing duaned a subscriber for his subscription, he not only refused to pay, but threatened to flog the editor if he stopped the paper.

A German being required to give a receipt in fell, after much mental effort, preduced the fol-lowing: "I ish full. I wants no more money. John Swachammer."

A young lady who was rebuked by her mother or kineling her lover, justified the act by quo-ing the pessage—"Whatsoever ye would the en abund do unto you do ye even so to them."

— Will you give me that ring?" said a village dandy to a lady, "for it resembles my love lor you; it has no end." "Excuse me, sir," was the reply, "I choose to keep it as being emble-matical of mine for you—it has no beginning."

An advocate having lately gained a suit for a poor young lady, who was hery ugly, ahe re-marked, "I have nothing to pay you with air, but my heart." Hand it over to the clerk, if you please; I with no fee for myself," he reyirst.

The Yankee farmer whese pigs were so lean statil tick two of them to make a shadow, has been besten by another who had savera; so this that they would crawl out through the cracks in their pea. He finally stopped that fun by tying knots in their talls.

A beggar importuned a lady for alms, she gave him a shilling. "God bless your ladyship," and he, this will prevent me from executing my resolution." The lady alarmed, and thinking he meditated suicide, asked what he meant? 'Alas, madam,' replied he, 'hat for this shitting i should be obliged to go to work."

It a young man desires to be "independent" let him be a printer. We know one who has work, ed thirten years at the case, and he now repre-sents his wardrobe as being in a flourshing con-dition! He says: "When I first went at the business I had one cost and a pock-th andker-chief. Now I have two costs and a trunk."

A lady says the first time she was kissed, she filles a big tub of roses, swimming in honory, cologoe and cranberries. She also felt as if something was running through her nerves on feet of dismonds, escorted by several little outpids in charlots drawn by angels, shaded by honory-suckles, and the "whole" spread with melted rainbows.

Mister, how do you sell beef this morning? Why, twenty-five cents a pound; how muc Why, twenty five cents a pound; how much will you have? Twenty-five cents, ch? have you got a hear sir ?

No, just sold it.

Well I knowed that you couldn't have a heart, and ask twenty-five cents a pound for beef. I'm sorry you sold it, cause I d like to have some meat'.
