These coal operations give life and energy to every department of husiness, and are the source of all the outward prosperity of the city. Potterille wear quite sity appearance, and I me told, that on Searchay, the miner's labour having endeforthe week, the streets and beariness please are arounded. The only men who realize profits from each fields, who lease there as from 80 to 35 cents per too to the oost looperators. Thus these coal fields afford a large insome to the preprieters.

Potswille must always command a large amount of business. Its manufacturing establishments are extensive, and give employment, to a large number of hands. I was informed, that, within a circle of five milles, a population of 20,000 was counted. 8,000 of whom were unious, some of whose dasky spectre-like forms, I saw emerging from the depths beneath. DEATH OF RISHOP MESMANN.

DEATH OF REBROT MESMAIN.

The Press has the following particulars of this painful dispensation of Providence:
The Bishop! we are informed through one of the clergy of the diocese who was in his company at 3 o'clock it the afternoon, complained that he saver had felt so strangely in his life. Insmediately after usuals, he sarrade out from the Episcopal residence, and at 34, when walking upon the sidewalk in Vine streat, near Thirteenth, he fall suddenly dead. It is the opinion of an eminent physician that the onause of his death was apopleay. It is grantely to be regreted that he did not call in medical advice at the first moment of feeling ill, but it was his character to be wholly regardless of self in the proceedation of the duties of his high calling, and he has fallen a marryr to his irrepressible real:

"Next month," said the wife despiratingly to herzelf, some hours afterwards. "I don't see how I can wait that long." So she went to the closer in the little boys' room, to examine the old coats and pantaloons, and see what was to be done.

"It's a shame, sail she, "that I should be required to mend up any of these old things. This coat is entirely worn out in the sleates, and so faded and shabby; this one has been worn by them both. I certainly shall not mend this old sacque. I have pieces for these old pantaloons; these are too short anyway. All the old things put together are not worth a half a day of my time, and will not last a week after they are done."

But then came better thoughts. "It is vacation. Perhaps by school time I can have the money. Should I not try to inake some of these things do a little longer? My husband is in unusual difficulty; it is hard to get money, and after all it is not so much matter what those little fellows wear. Perhaps a neat patch is as much to their mother's credit as a new garment. There are plenty of pieces like this brown cost. Let me see what I can do."

FOR PRESIDENT. JEREMIAH S. BLACK,

The Presidency.

We copy the fellowing article advectaing the nomination of Judge Black for the Presidency from the Somerset Democrat. It is one of several able articles on the same subject that have articles on the same subject that have lately emanated from the same source. It is valuable as a graceful tribute to the Judge from his old neighbors, but still more so as an indication of the temper of those honest men in Pennnia who differed from the Admin tration on the Lecompton question. Democracy of Somerset county stood with Senator Dorotas on the Lecompton issue, but they subscribe to the doctrines laid down by Judge to the doctrines laid down by Judge BLACK in his pamphlet on the Terri-torial question. And they propose the for President because they believe him to be the truest exponent of the conservative sentiment of the coun-try—the Representative Man of soher and patriotic old Pennsylvania.

opinions of some of our distinguished statesmen. Judge BLACK. instance, has been denounced as an ocate of extreme Southern docsorvente of extreme Southern foot-trines, by certain presses and politi-cians. Mr. Breckingide, who has so many friends and so well deserves them, has been claimed by those same presses and politicians as a subscriber to Senator Douglas' views on the Territorial question. Now the fact is, Mr. Branches and politicians as a subscriber Mr. Breckingion's views are a shade more Southern than Judge Black's. Any person who chooses can satisfy himself on this point by comparing Mr. Breckinging's late speech at Frankfort with Judge BLACK's pamph-let. And between Judge BLACK and Southern fire-caters, as between him and Eastern abolitionists, there is a wide difference.

dge Black occupies the safe middle ground—the true constitutional ground—the real Pennsylvania ground—the ground the Democracy of all carolina and afterwards migrated to New York, published an Abolition book nomination would command the respect of the whole country, and he would th

then she would have the sympathy and perhaps the assistance of one-half the Northern people.

This threat of whipping the South into submission is worse than folly. It is made for the purpose of driving the South to disunion. The Union cannot be maintained by virtue of "arms and ammunition." But "arms and and ammunition." But "arms and ammunition" can destroy it. The first gun fired by one section of the country at another under pretence of maintaining the Union, will dissolve it. HICKMAN knows this, and he ut-ters his threats of coercion and conquest only because he wants to bring on a collision and a separation of the States, and get rid of a Constitution stealing.

HICKMAN'S insultung remarks on viso. This rash expression of Georgia, who patriotically declared that he was "for the Union with the ted a powerful rebuke from N But he spoiled a little speech that would otherwise have been a good one, by saying that "one crop of cotton in Georgia would buy nearly the whole State of Pennsylvania." GARTRELL's ignorance on this point list equal to Higher and Demo is equal to HICKMAN's malignity.

a year or two ago. This book advises the North to throttle slavery; to abolcarry Pennsylvania against any other ish slavery by force; and it calls upon all the non-slaveholders in the country. North and South, to have nothing. to do with slaveholders-not to eat at a hotel where slaves wait at the table, not to employ a physician who owns slaves, and not to trade or associate with a slaveholder under any circumstances. The programme of this book can only be carried out by disunion and war between the North and the South.

> Sixty-eight Republican members of that told the slave it was his duty to violate the person of his mistress. and knock the brains out of every white child he could lay his hands on. white child he could lay his hands on.
> John Sherman, the Republican candidate for Speaker, was a signer of that recommendation. The damaing fact has up to this period prevented his election, though every Republican member has voted for him. He keeps his mouth shut when the book is alluded to, but several of his friends have and eavoired to relieve him of the odium and the rights and interests of those across Mason and Dixterests of these across Mason and Dixterests of those across Mason and Dixterests of these across Mason and Dixterests of the care across Mason and Dixterests of the care across Mason and Dixterests of the care acro of resonanceding it, by stating that he was not aware of its contents when he signed the recommendation!
