CATACOMBS OF PALERMO.

In a late number of the Independent, George Allen Butler thus describes one of the strange sights at Palermo...

"The most horrible feature of the whole exhibition is that nearly every face wears in its fossil decay and ruin a dreadfully ludicrous and comic gaze down upon you, have a sort of a grim vitality of their own, and though the entire array it seems as if there was a dumb intelligence—a mute correspondence and sympathy—in the sinister and almost wicked way in which they return the curious state of the intruders."

THE METHODS OF THE CRISIS.

Resolved, 5th. That we will follow Virginia, support her institutions and observe her laws. Resolved, 6th. That we have unabated confidence in the preachers of the Baltimore Conference. Indian Outrage. Two men, named Pope and Frank, employed by Mr. Davidson, about 17 miles on the Platte, above here, came in today and reported that a party of 15 Indians, supposed to be Cheyennes, chased them from Kim Creek yesterday. When near the road one of the Indians rode up to the ox team Pope was driving and snatched his gun at him, and then threw his horse. Pope drew his pistol, but it snapped. Frank was on horse back close by the Indian, when Pope jumped on the Indian's horse and both fled and escaped, leaving the wagon and team. The other Indians were at this time half a mile behind, but they pursued the men for some distance, when Pope and Frank returned from a large passing train, and the Indians retired slowly. As soon as the commanding officer was informed of the attack, he ordered the dragoon company and mounted men to the scene, and found that all the wagons belonging to the fort were down the Platte after noon. One has been sent for to carry the provisions and forage, and the company will start this afternoon and go to Davidson's to-night, and proceed to Kim Creek by day-break, and attack the Indian camp, if the report is true. A large party of Sioux and Cheyenne came near the Fort and late Kearney city this morning. They stated that they were from Keph-ness Fork, and were seeking the Pawnees. The reports and news reports are very meagre at the attitude the Indians have assumed of late, and anticipate the attack from them. The Indians having heard that some of the dragoons had left, and the post at Fort Kearney was to be broken up, have threatened that as soon as this was done, they would attack every settlement on the Platte. THE LATEST.—The wagon camp for having arrived, the dragoons left here about half-past two this afternoon. They are very handsomely equipped, and the display is altogether creditable. We may expect to hear from them tomorrow night. THE KANSAS TROUBLES. Will it be believed that this unfortunate Miramón was dragged to prison by order of Miramón, by the head of police, and was sentenced to receive five hundred lashes at day-break the following morning? When three hundred and fifty had been administered, Miramón was informed that the man was dying. "Let the remaining," he said, "be given to the dead body; my order must be carried out."

VALLEY SPIRIT. CHAMBERSBURG, PA. Wednesday Morning, Dec. 5, 1860.

News of the Week.

No material change for the better has taken place in the condition of monetary affairs in our large cities the past week. The general feeling in financial circles is exceedingly depressed. There is no disposition among capitalists to make investments, all seem adverse to entering into operations in the present unsettled state of political affairs in the country.

The above items present a picture of the evils now felt in all portions of the country not only financially, but socially, and which have been brought about by the election of LINCOLN to the Presidency. It is, indeed, a sorry realization of the "better times" so extensively promised by the Republicans previous to the election.

tion of specie payments by our banks to-day took many of our people by surprise, but it was not altogether unexpected by those who have narrowly watched the gathering clouds for the last twenty days. We were in the midst of a state of material prosperity without a parallel even in our own past history.

The impression that a dissolution of the Union is inevitable is becoming more firmly fixed on the public mind every hour. The make-believe game that there is no danger is about played out. Every paper we open from the South, (with a few exceptions—and they speak very timidly) gives the most unmistakable evidence that public sentiment, all through the South, is ripe and ready for secession.

We have seen nothing of the President's Message up to the time our paper goes to press. Congress met on Monday and it was supposed the message would be presented on the second day of the session. It will be a document of considerable length and much anxiety is felt to see the policy which the President will advocate.

We are in receipt of fuller accounts of the outrages committed in Kansas by Montgomery and his band. They are hunting down and driving from the Territory all men who have disapproved of their robberies, murders, &c., and who have in any manner acted to sustain the laws. The accounts published in the Republican papers are written by Abolition emissaries expressly to mislead the public mind and cover up the designs of the marauders.

Governor elect, was present. Morton McMichael presided at the meeting. It is intimated that McClure has changed his programme somewhat—he will take the Secretaryship of State under Curtin and drop the U. S. Senatorship—Cameron standing too formidable in the way.

The South Carolina delegation, including Senators Hammond and Chesnut, will attend Congress until their State secedes, when they will retire in a body. Several members of Congress from other States, devoted in their hearts to the Union, say that their duty to their State will compel their early resignation after the assembling of Congress.

The official vote of Louisiana stands as follows: Breckinridge, 18,388; Bell, 15,940; Douglas, 9,010; Breckinridge over Bell, 2,422. The Legislature of Vermont has refused to repeal the Personal Liberty Act of that State. The vote in favor of repeal was 58; against repeal 125.

The State Convention in South Carolina is called for the purpose of Seceding—that of Georgia for Deliberating—and those of Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana for Consulting. On Saturday last, no less than 1300 barrels of Oil arrived in one day at Pittsburg, from the great oil region at the head of the Alleghany.

On Thanksgiving day, sermons were delivered in all Northern churches—they all referred to the political troubles and expressed Union-loving sentiments. So far so good!

Later from Mexico. The accounts at the State Department from Mexico concerning the undertaking of Guatemaleros on the 13th ultimo by Gen. Zaragoza—Gen. Canales capitulating. On the 1st inst. Gen. Marquez, who went to aid Castillo, was routed at the bridge of Totolan, losing 8,500 men and all his artillery. Castillo went to the city of Tepic, where he was joined by Lerdo and Cajon.

Repeat the Law and Save the Union. The secession movement, instead of wearing out, appears to be gaining strength. The tone of Southern sentiments has, within the past week, become more decided, and it must now be apparent to the most skeptical that we shall soon witness the sorrowful sight of a withdrawal of four or five States from the Union.

The issue is fairly before us. As we sow we shall reap. If we are maintaining the Union, we must maintain the Constitution. If we lead the way in repealing our law obstructing the execution of a law of Congress passed in pursuance of the Constitution, other Northern States will follow us, and the Union will be saved.

Effects of Lincoln's Election. If the people of the Northern States had made up their mind to commit suicide in a business point of view, they could not have taken a better way to do it than by electing LINCOLN.

Will any Pennsylvanian who has ever read the Constitution of the United States deny that it imposes upon us the duty of "delivering up" to his master any slave who may escape to our soil? Certainly no one will deny that the Constitution does impose upon us that duty. Then are we not bound to do it? A man who makes an agreement with another is bound by the terms of the agreement.

Now the people of Pennsylvania, in their ordinary transactions of life, daily make agreements with one another, and all of them who are honest men stand by their bargains. Any one who should without just cause repudiate a bargain he had made, would be regarded by his neighbors as a dishonest man, whose society it were best to shun.

It will not do for us to excuse ourselves by saying that we have heretofore been ignorant of the existence of this nullifying law of ours, unless we take immediate measures to repeal it. If we do not wipe it out as soon as possible after the meeting of our Legislature in January, the South will have good reason to believe that we intend to adhere to it, and this belief will not only strengthen the secession feeling, but develop elsewhere it will now, daily the slightest spark.

Union-loving people. We proudly call our glorious old State the "Keystone of the Federal Arch." If we wish to prove our patriotism and establish the title of Pennsylvania to the flattering synonym of the "Keystone State," now is our time to do it.

The issue is fairly before us. As we sow we shall reap. If we are maintaining the Union, we must maintain the Constitution. If we lead the way in repealing our law obstructing the execution of a law of Congress passed in pursuance of the Constitution, other Northern States will follow us, and the Union will be saved.

Effects of Lincoln's Election. If the people of the Northern States had made up their mind to commit suicide in a business point of view, they could not have taken a better way to do it than by electing LINCOLN.

The New York Herald sent a special reporter around among the factories and business places of that city, to ascertain to what extent the trade and manufactures of New York had suffered. The reporter found an alarming falling off in the manufacture and sale of various kinds of Merchandise.

If reporters were sent around all the great commercial and manufacturing cities to gather up facts, the same tale would be told by each of them. The fact is plain and beyond dispute, that the election of LINCOLN, effected by the vote of the North, has struck down Northern industry, ruined Northern capital, and turned Northern laborers out to starve and freeze through the fast coming winter.

It will not do for us to excuse ourselves by saying that we have heretofore been ignorant of the existence of this nullifying law of ours, unless we take immediate measures to repeal it. If we do not wipe it out as soon as possible after the meeting of our Legislature in January, the South will have good reason to believe that we intend to adhere to it, and this belief will not only strengthen the secession feeling, but develop elsewhere it will now, daily the slightest spark.

A Medal Letter. The Abolitionists are being snatched in every quarter. Gov. PACKER has just administered a severe rebuke to a pack of them in Boston in a manner that must delight the heart of every patriot, and would see them abolition-mischief-makers treated as they deserve.

Mr. James Redpath, a British emissary, sent to this country to propagate abolition doctrine, and wage a civil war in the nation, has had the impudence to address a letter to Gov. PACKER inviting him to attend a celebration of the anniversary of the "death" of Old John Brown. The letter of invitation is signed by Redpath and several other niggers. Redpath was one of Brown's murderous band in Kansas and wrote all the "blood and thunder letters" that appeared in the New York Tribune concerning the trouble which he helped to create in that territory.

Executive Department, Harrisburg, Pa. November 21, 1860. Sir: In my opinion, the young men whose names are attached to the foregoing letter, would better serve God and their country by attending to their own business.

Remedy for Abolitionism. We make the following extract from the Manchester (New Hampshire) Union Democrat. There is much sound sense in the remedy it prescribes for that course of our country abolitionism. Let the South apply the remedy and let the North show she is in earnest in what she says, and the wounds of the past will soon be healed.

Our Southern friends have their remedy in their own hands—the only remedy—they must make Abolitionism cease. We have done what we could to arrest it; but with mortification and shame, we are obliged to confess that we can neither reason it down nor vote it down, and we tell our Southern friends frankly that they must heretofore take care of themselves.— They can kill out Abolitionism in a year if they will; but there is only one way—they must starve it out.

Our Southern friends are generous and forbearing. We have in this city fifteen hundred men who want to vote, that the South shall understand we do not wish to interfere in any way with its constitutional rights. The doctrine has been openly advocated here by the Abolition press and Abolition organs, that such men must be starved out—must not be employed; and many an honest Democrat, gentleman of the South, who works upon the good you buy, has been compelled to vote against your rights and his own conscience, under the penalty of dishonour.

What is He Worth?

John Doe is a man of large possessions. He has houses, lands, stocks, and all appurtenances of a man of wealth. He is industrious, abroad, and successful. His neighbors and the money changers say he is worth a great deal, and so he is, if a man's worth must be measured by the length of his purse. But a real man is something else, and more than the gold and silver he happens to own, and therefore, the gospel of Mammon, and its evasions, does not give him the right to the truth, which he pretenses he has. He is worth a great deal, merely because he is rich. For worth and wealth are not synonymous or convertible terms, and a rich man may be a very worthless one.

None are really worth any more or less than the characters they possess, and their fitness for doing good to others. If one is ignorant, selfish and miserly, he may sport a carriage in Broadway, jawa at the opera, lodge in the Fifth Avenue, and create a great sensation in Wall street.

But if it be asked; to what purpose does this man live? What is he worth to his fellow men? What good does he do in the world? Echo answers, what? Like a sponge, he grows distended and dropsical with borrowed matter; and if he be thoroughly squeezed, and made to part with his fictitious weight, he becomes as light and worthless as a feather, for he has no internal solidity of character. He has transmuted into gold, and when that is gone, the man is gone too.

There are some everywhere, in our prosperous country, of great possessions, who resemble nothing so much as a receiving vault of a cemetery, which looks up in darkness and death at all that come within its dreary precincts. No appeal of sorrow, no cry for aid, no glorious promise of future good, no prophetic voice, or angel whisper of love, can penetrate or dispart the patrid compound that reigns within.

And thus Mr. John Doe may fill up his coffers and increase his personal resources, but if his heart be pitiless, devoid of generous sympathies and human desires; if riches are with him the end of existence; if he can find no other use for his money than to employ it in purchasing base indulgence, or laying it by for uncertain and profligate heirs; if he finds a pleasure in the charities of life, or institutions devoted to human weal—if he is always a greedy receiver, and never a liberal dispenser; then, for the so-called rich, but actually poor John Doe. His penny is worse than that of a Lazarus. He is more worthless than the beggar child, who sits on the ground, with others, remembering that he is more blessed to give than to receive.

What is a man worth? He is worth precisely just as much as he has capacity of contribution to be useful. He is to be valued by the good he attempts or accomplishes. Not the tax gatherer, but the man who has polished marble for relieving the poor, who preserves the memory of a benefactor, who, by his dying, leaves a monument of mercy, and so remains a benefactor of generous and benevolent families.

Live Little Weighed by Measure. The little instrument necessary is a measure with feet and inches marked upon it. The girth is the circumference of the animal just behind the shoulder blades—The superficial feet are obtained by multiplying the girth and length. The following table contains the rule to ascertain the weight of the animal:

If less than one foot in girth, multiply superficial feet by eight.
If less than three and more than one multiply superficial feet by eleven.
If less than five and more than three multiply superficial feet by sixteen.
If less than seven and more than five multiply superficial feet by twenty-three.
If less than nine and more than seven multiply superficial feet by thirty-three.
If less than eleven and more than nine multiply superficial feet by forty-two.

Example: Suppose the girth of a bullock to be six feet three inches; length five feet six inches; the superficial area will then be thirty-four; and, in accordance with the preceding table, the weight will be seven hundred and eighty-two pounds.

Example: Suppose a pig to measure in girth two feet, and length one foot nine inches. There would then be three and a half feet, which, multiplied by eleven, gives thirty eight and a half pounds, as the weight of the animal when dressed. In this way the weight of the four quarters can be substantially ascertained during life.

TO CLEAN THE EYE OF DUST—When the eye is irritated by dust or intrusive particles of any kind, the sufferer invariably shuts and rubs his eye, and not infrequently the removal of the irritating cause becomes more difficult. The proper practice is to keep the eye open, as if starting a sort of rotary movement of the ball with water, the surface becomes covered with place, the particles gradually impelled to the corner of the eye, and is there dotted out, or can be easily removed, without any of the disagreeable consequences that attend shutting and rubbing.

A Mrs. Campbell brought suit, last week, in the Court of Common Pleas of Cumberland County, Pa., against Mr. Orrer, for defamation. The jury gave her $1500 damages.

It is estimated that on the 1st of January, 1861, there will be four hundred miles of railroad in Texas, and still the work has but just commenced.
