

relation between husband and wife among slaves, is not always respected by their masters. Families, if one can call them so, are broken up—the husband is sold in one direction and the wife in another, whilst their children are disposed of according to the highest price offered from any point of the compass.—These are hardships, but except in the right of selling and dispersing families, they are not, unfortunately, peculiar to the South. The degraded condition of thousands of females in our large cities in the free States furnishes a hint that it is for those who are without sin to cast the first stone, that men should take the blame out of their own eye before they attempt to spy out the mote in their neighbors. Nay, we would ask, is there a moralist, even of the abolition school, who does not know that there is prevailing all over our States (and possibly many of those in which slavery is recognized) by an occult science by which in order to protect an unmarred female from public shame, both the mother and her unborn child are destroyed by a brutal, barbarous operation.

This topic may be taken into consideration by our philanthropists, but it cannot be treated of in a newspaper with any proper regard for the decency and delicacy of pure morals. But we are tired of this topic and we have only now to say that we despise, in the name of all Catholics, the "idea" of making this a subject of the philanthropic nonsense of abolitionism. In certain localities abolitionism may tend to elevate some aspirant to office. But statesmen, once elected, view the question as statesmen are bound to do. If they are charged with the administration of the Federal Government, they are bound to look to the North and the South, the East and the West, with the same just and impartial appreciation of the rights of all our people. If any portion of the people should array themselves against the government, then that portion should be brought to order either by civil law that will be submitted to, or at the cannon's mouth.

But to suppose that this present war is a trick by which, adroitly managed, our government and our brave troops are made or hoped to be made, blind instruments of abolitionists to carry out their "idea" in the Southern States, is an insult to the North generally, and to Catholics generally. We have a Government. That Government professes to guide its administration according to the requirements of the Constitution. That Government under the sanction of the Constitution, has been created by the people themselves. Having been thus created, if it should be left unsupported, the people will have turned caudillo to themselves, and allow the government to abdicate. Nothing of this kind can, of course, ever happen; but, in the meantime, the Government, the actual Government of the United States, shall and must be supported by all the treasures of all the blood, if necessary, of loyal citizens. But, at all events, it must be supported.

Good Signs.
The leading Republican newspapers of Massachusetts are "down" on Mr. Charles Sumner's recent emancipation speech in the Republican State Convention, all agreeing that the repetition of his annual ravings about the barbarism of slavery was out of place at this time. This is one of the signs of the times. Less than a year ago such speeches were received with acclamations in Republican Conventions. Another significant sign of the drift of public opinion was the refusal of this Convention to pass a resolution in favor of negro emancipation in accordance with the sentiments expressed in Sumner's speech. And still another of these signs is to be found in the expression of opinion like the following in the Springfield (Mass) Republican, whose editor was present at the convention:
"After the reading of a very superb and stirring of resolutions, Charles Sumner came upon the platform, and was received with warm cheers; and as he was introduced out west into the usual anti-slavery speech, we could not help thinking of Mr. Venneck's little canon, touched so regularly at sunset in 'Great Expectations.' 'Every year, so he canon sound and brings out another, brings out Mr. Sumner in a full dress and a speech, which; never that he has sworn never to talk of anything at slavery, with perhaps a mental reservation touching himself.' The aged 'pa' is always present to hear the pap, and to express his disgust with the tone. We could not but feel that Mr. Sumner's speech was ill-timed and out of place."

The Secretary of the Treasury says he is expending $1,300,000 a day. The Boston Treasury says this amounts to $6,400,000 a week, and $338,000,000 a year. It is equal to $30,000,000 a year, and a trifle over $300 a minute. The amount of interest on a year's expenditure of this rate will be about $38,000,000; and we had $121,000,000 of debt before this expenditure began.

TO-DAY.

By Thomas Carleton.
Lo, here both have dawning
Another such day;
Thou wilt then let it
Slip unseen away.
Out of Merit
This is no day to baffle,
Late Morn
At night all returns
Behold it dawning
No eye over old;
No moon in favor
From all eyes is hid;
Here both have dawning
Another such day;
Thou wilt then let it
Slip unseen away.

Notice.

We want money—or rather our creditors do, and our debtors have all our ready cash in their possession.— Would they be considerate enough, if they are done using it, to lend it over that we may be enabled to keep the wolf from our door.

Did It Pay?

The Somerset Herald & Whig, Republican paper, contains the following cutting comment on the condition of affairs in the Republican party brought about by the chicanery of the faction that placed NILL in nomination for the Judgeship.

Cut-Throat.

While we go to press (Tuesday morning) the election is progressing. And such an election! No one can form an idea of the probable result.

make shipwreck of the party through which they obtained their influence, with the hope that it may or may not be the end proper thereby.

In N. H. the last desperate "cut-throat" game of the worst of gamblers, at which none but reckless rogues play, and where the greatest have been to win.

In Franklin county, determined to have the Judge at all hazards—a few managers got up a bogus Union Convention, composed mostly of Republicans, with a sprinkling of Democrats—whose representatives believed its professions, by refusing to unite with the Democrats in the balance of the district—for the purpose of forcing one Democrat on the people; but the managers lost the vote, and to their dismay and mortification, another profligate by their scheme, and will be elected to-day, unless we anticipate, they cut his throat at the last moment.

In Fulton county, having no Judicial candidate of their own, they first appointed a set of confederates, these were afterwards, at the instance of the Bedford managers, and to suit their purpose, another set was substituted, and these, by unknown process, were induced to violate their instructions, and throw themselves into the arms of the Franklin county confederates.

And Somerset county, with a—whose hitherto reliable Republican majority, another Judicial, Congressional Senatorial or Legislative district can be carried like a blind man, bound hand and foot, has this bitter chalice commingled of fraud, treachery, greediness and personal dishonor, pressed to his lips, and compelled to drain the nauseating dregs to the very dregs, under the false and lying plea that Patriotism requires it.

Why? Again we ask this needless sacrifice of party and of personal integrity? Will any one have the hardihood to allege in the face of all the treachery and chicanery grinning through it, that patriotism had anything to do with it? Is there in this wide Commonwealth a single Republican whose patriotism is ever doubted? Is the patriotism of the members of the Democratic party of a poorer or more exalted character than that of the Republicans? Then why sacrifice party integrity and personal honor to elect demagogues as "Union men" when that party all over the State has refused to any county, where they had the power, to unite with the Republicans? Let any one point out if they can, a Democratic county in the State where a single Republican has been placed on the Democratic ticket.

We defy these patriotic Union gentlemen to name a single Democratic county, wherein they have not nominated a straight Democratic ticket.

In every county in this district, the Democrats have a clean party ticket in the field. In all of them that commands the field. In all of them that commands the field.

Against this fatal delusion and error, we have labored with steady earnestness, and now on the day of the consummation of the inquiry, we wash our hands of it, and to those who are the end will find the victims of this cut-throat business we cry—

Change of Team. The Philadelphia Bulletin, of the 9th inst., in speaking of the result of the election in Philadelphia, says:—

The Democrats gain some members of the City Councils and the Legislature; but it is gratifying to know that all the men elected to office are, and always have been, unqualifiedly in favor of the union and the vigorous prosecution of the war with the Southern rebels.

Before the election the Democratic candidates were all secessionists and traitors; after the election it is discovered that ten of them at least, are in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war with the Southern rebels. How does it happen that the Bulletin did not proclaim this fact before the election? Had the entire Democratic Legislative ticket been elected, no doubt the Bulletin would be compelled to admit them all sound union men, as it now admits the successful ten to be.

Several loads of good Hickory Wood will be taken at this office in exchange for Subscriptions.

From Richmond. The Washington Correspondent of the New York Times met with a gentleman in Washington recently, who gave him the following items of Southern news.

A gentleman has come to Washington direct from Richmond, via Norfolk, where he was sent with a flag of truce. He has been held in custody by the rebels at Richmond for about two months, although he was a civilian and had no connection with our army operations.

He saw the Howell Cobb regiment of cavalry pass through Richmond, and he thinks he never saw a more perfectly equipped and better appearing regiment. He says all the rebel troops that he saw appeared to be fairly clothed and well shod.

This gentleman also reports that the most brutal of the officers in charge of the prisoners were Capt. Todd, Mrs. Lincoln's brother, and Gen. Winder, the brother of the Winder now in confinement at Fort Lafayette.

Released. Daniel Deichert, editor of the Hagerstown Mail, has been released by the Government, and returned to his home on Saturday evening last.

After an absence of seven weeks, under circumstances with which our readers are familiar, we are once more at our post.

We were spirited away by Military authority, on the night of the 27th of August, and conveyed to Washington, where we have been ever since strictly confined and guarded in a Military Prison.

Mob Violence Rebuked. The Lancaster Intelligencer of Tuesday, says, a short time ago, when it was fashionable for a certain class of persons to show their patriotism by mob demonstrations upon Democratic newspaper establishments, the office of the Eastern Sentinel was destroyed by an enraged rabble.

over 1,100. Col. NEWMAN comes to the Legislature with the endorsement of his constituents, and the instigators of the riotous proceedings at Easton have received a lesson which they are likely to remember as long as they live.

Our Mr. Jenkins who does up the bon-ton items for our paper has furnished the following graphic description of a wedding in upper darkeydom at which he was recently an honored guest.

On Thursday evening, October 17th, at the residence of the Bride's father, by Rev. William Rhodes, Mr. James Chislicine, Superintendent of Equine to Miss Kate Stuart, daughter of John Stuart, manufacturer of Edge too's.

The above parties belong to the first class, upper-cut, colored quality of this place. He gives the following particulars in regard to the dress &c, of the happy couple and attendants.

The bride was elegantly attired in a white dress, gloves and flowers. The bridegroom was the simple but beautiful work of nature, composed of slow drops, myrtle and chrysanthemums, and held in her hand a magnificent bouquet of flowers.

The battery attached to this regiment is to be furnished with six rifled field pieces, and probably two field howitzers. The guns have already been shipped.

WAR AND OTHER NEWS. WEDNESDAY, OCT. 16, 1861.

A telegram from Fort Jackson, near New Orleans, to the Richmond Dispatch of the 14th, reports an engagement between the iron clad "Turtle," built at New Orleans, under command of Captain George N. Hollins, formerly of the U. S. Navy, from Maryland, and the United States blockading squadron.

The Turtle, it is said, mounted only sixteen guns, the Federal fleet had forty guns and 1,000 men. Captain Hollins declared that, if not interrupted by the war ships in the offing, he hoped to secure the whole of the in-shore fleet within forty-eight hours.

We learn that the Confederate steamer Nashville ran the blockade off Charleston lately, and is now on her way across the Atlantic. Among her passengers are the Hon. James M. Mason and John Sillwell—the first Commissioner to the Court of St. James, and the latter to the French Court.

From Washington we have news through the National Intelligence. It is given as an assured fact that the Government has in preparation measures for the relief of the Union men on Chincoteague Island, and to operate against a force of Confederates in Northampton and Accomac counties.

From the Potomac we learn that the captain of the Philadelphia ice-boat thinks he can disable the Confederate steamer Page by bringing to bear on her an eighty-pounder. He believes he can hit her now and then.

THURSDAY, OCT. 17. From Washington we learn that an officer of the steamer Jacob Bell reports that there are six heavy guns in position at Shipping Point Battery, and that the river is a mile wide at that place.

From Fortress Monroe the news is that the U. S. steamer Saracen of the Mississippi blockading fleet, had been lost in a storm. The rumor, it is said, was not believed at Old Point Comfort.

Lieutenant Bankhead reports that between Savannah and Fernandina there are six good entrances, with excellent anchorage and plenty of water, not blockaded.

The San Francisco Evening Bulletin complains that telegraphic and mail communication with California is interrupted by the Missouri troubles.

On the Red River the Indians are troublesome. They clamor for a settlement for their lands, and accompany their demands with threats. Before the boat could pass down to Fort Garry the Captain had to pay toll in provisions to the tribes.

From the Chicago Tribune of the 10th we learn that a serious difficulty had arisen between Generals Lane and Sturgis—that Lane would no longer obey Sturgis's orders, and that he was about to prefer charges against that officer.

From Missouri we have a confirmation of the report of a battle on the 27th of September, between a body of Kansas troops under Montgomery and Jamison, and the advance guard of Ben McCulloch.

From the South we have additional intelligence by way of the Memphis Appeal, the New Orleans Delta and the Mobile Register. Southern officers seem to be clearly apprised of the proposed expeditions against their coast.

FRIDAY, OCT. 18, 1861. From Harper's Ferry we have the report of an engagement between six companies, contributed by the 25th Pennsylvania, 8d Wisconsin, and 15th Massachusetts regiments, and commanded by Col. John W. Geary, and a force of three thousand (as stated) Confederates.

ed gun left there by General Johnston when he first evacuated the Ferry, and of so little value that neither General Patterson nor Gen. Banks considered it worth removing.

By the steamer Adelaide, which arrived yesterday morning from Fortress Monroe, we learn that the gunboat 65 minnie had arrived at the Ferry in a disabled condition. In passing down the Potomac from Washington at a point near Evansville, above Aquia Creek, a Confederate battery opened upon her and fired some thirty shots, seven of which struck her.

At the fortress everything was quiet. The Federal forces are a daily expectation of an attack on Newport News. From Union men who arrived from Norfolk the Federals have learned that to approach Richmond by way of Yorktown is an impossibility.

From Washington we learn of the formidable strength of the Confederate batteries on the Potomac. Thirty or forty vessels bound up with Government stores are described as lying at Smith's Point, afraid to pass the batteries which are said to be at Shipping Point, Evansport, Quantico Creek, and Timber Creek.

From Missouri we have intelligence of the capture of Captain Muntz, with his second lieutenant and nine of his men, about thirty miles from Fort Craig. The Confederates also captured three Government wagons.

The State Convention of Missouri has passed an ordinance providing that all persons taking the oath of allegiance within thirty days, shall be exempt from punishment for having been in arms against the Provisional Government of the State and giving aid and comfort to the enemies of the country.

From Europe our latest advices are by the Arabia, from Liverpool October 5th. The Earl of Eglington is dead. Mr. Lindsay, a member of Parliament from Sunderland, had addressed his constituents on the American question.

From France we learn of agitations in Paris, growing out of the high price of bread. Forty thousand workmen are said to be out of employment in Lyons.

From Spain we hear of the active progress of preparations for the expedition against Mexico. The Spanish government will, it is said, act independently as far as the first movements are concerned.

From the Chicago Tribune we learn that Fremont was at one time actually removed. The Boston Courier confirms this statement, and asserts that it was well known in Boston that Fremont had been displaced, and that the explanation of the Chicago Tribune is probably the true one—that Gen. Wool's conditions were unreasonable.

The letter of Secretary Seward to the Governors of the seaboard States, asking them to fortify the harbors and lakes, has exercised the minds of northern journalists to an unusual degree. It is said to have fallen like a bomb-shell in Wall street, and the result was an instantaneous decline in every description of Government securities.

Small Business. Our readers will remember that the printing offices of the Christian Observer, Philadelphia, and the Jeffersonian, West Chester, were taken possession of and closed up by the United States Marshal, about two months since, because, as was alleged by the persons making the information, that said papers had published treasonable matter.

From Harper's Ferry we have the report of an engagement between six companies, contributed by the 25th Pennsylvania, 8d Wisconsin, and 15th Massachusetts regiments, and commanded by Col. John W. Geary, and a force of three thousand (as stated) Confederates.

Franklin County—Returns of Election held October 8, 1861.

Table with columns for Districts, Candidates, and Vote counts. Includes districts like Chamb'g, N. Ward, and various candidates such as M. Keston and M. Keston.

As will be seen, part of the voluntary vote has not yet been received here—that of the Companies of Captains Homan and M'Keston. We will, therefore, republish the Table with that vote included.

The returns from different parts of the State come in very slowly, but they indicate an overwhelming defeat of Republicanism in nearly every quarter where that party run a straight ticket.

The Democrats have the Senator, 10 (out of 17) of the Assemblymen, and all of the five county officers. The old Judiciary were re-elected, as the candidates of the Union Convention.

The Juniatia Democrat says on the result of the election in that county: "The election is again over, and its result known. Little Juniatia has done nobly!"

The false issue raised by the Republicans, that the Democrats were all "Secessionists," would not take. The people remembered how they were duped by false issues, and idle promises last fall, and were not willing to be gulled again.

Result of the Election. The old Democracy of Pennsylvania have much cause to rejoice over the result of the election of the 8th inst. One year ago our State was completely conquered and overrun with Black Republicanism.

And so on through the chapter.—The great revolution has commenced in this State, and the Black Republicans must stand for under. If the rebels should continue to succeed until it becomes so that general emancipation is the only means of suppressing it and restoring the Union, this public opinion will demand, and the Government will resort to that measure.

Capt. Wishart's Company. Roll of Company B, Capt. H. S. Wishart, Col. F. S. Stambaugh's Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers, Mustered into the service of the United States October 8th 1861.

What is nobility? That which places Truth to be enfranchised will! Leaving not a single man behind, That nobility may follow still!

FROM PORTERS HONOR.

Porters Honor, Oct 14. The steamer 3 R Spalding returned from Hatteras Inlet this morning, bringing up Brigadier-General Meade, who has today taken command at Camp Hamilton.

The entire loss of the Indiana 20th regiment in their recent retreat was but forty seven men all told. No changes have taken place at the inlet during the last few days.

Lieutenant Murray, of the gunboat Louisiana, two or three days since found a Confederate vessel in a narrow opening this side of Hatteras Inlet, firing on her as a privateer. He at once took possession of and burnt the vessel. The Confederates were in some force in the vicinity.

The force of the Federal fleet was forty guns and nearly one thousand men, while the little Confederate Mosquito fleet carried sixteen guns and three hundred men. It is reported that our iron steamer sunk the Preble with her iron prow. Commodore H. Linares arrived last night.
